U. S. And British Warships Take Part In Bombardment

Big Three In Conference On Germany's Role

Foreign Ministers Continue Debate On Rearming Issue

By GEORGE DURNO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The western foreign ministers approached stubborn agreement today on placing enough combat divisions in Europe to meet any Russian threat, with an accord on the rearmament of Germany likely by nightfall.

Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman continued debate over the role Germany will play in the defense of western Europe, but American spokesmen discounted talk of a "deadlock."

The British and French representatives are somewhat hamstrung by domestic political considerations, but one thing appeared certain:

When all 12 foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Defense Alliance assemble in New York on Friday, the Big Three will have reached an agreement.

The three foreign chiefs resumed their sessions at 10:30 a. m. (EDT) after six hours of discussion yesterday.

Oppose U. S. Proposal

Bevin and Schuman have opposed an American proposal that some 10 divisions of Germans be

CAMP ATTERBURY, IND.—Sgt. Robert Jones explains unit citation for battle of Ardennes during World War II to Pvt. Mitchell Charles, Pvt. William Leone, and Cpl. David Rowe all of New Castle who are with the 229th field artillery battalion here.

Eastern Motor Units, 28th Division, Here Overnight

New Castle saw the last of any large bodies of 28th Division troops at least for a little while, this morning.

Motorized detachments of the 109th Field Artillery and the 109th Infantry left Cunningham Armory this morning between 7:30 and 8 o'clock headed for Camp Atterbury, Ind., under the command of Major H. C. Olver of Scranton. About 125 vehicles were in the convoy, with two men riding each vehicle.

Arrived Wednesday

The convoys arrived at the armory Wednesday evening, starting about 6:30. The men spent the night in the armory with their vehicles parked in the truck park of the armory. The convoy will stay in Lima, O., tonight.

The wreck of the 28th Division troop train near Coshocton, O., Monday morning had its effect upon the men in the convoy leaving here this morning. The men killed in the wreck were friends

Seventeen Hurt In Mishap On N. Y. Subway

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Seventeen persons were reported injured in a New York subway accident today during the height of the morning commuter rush hour.

A northbound "F" train on the city's independent system developed a short circuit at 8:11 a. m., causing a fire and explosion and stalling the train between Second Avenue and Delancey street on New York's lower East Side.

Five ambulances were sent to the scene and some of the injured were removed to hospitals.

The electric power was immediately shut off as work crews and ambulance attendants repaired the damage and cared for the injured.

The board of transportation reported that normal service was resumed at 8:44 a. m.

Passengers on a train behind the damaged cars were escorted out of the tunnel through emergency exits.

No Information On Possible Plans For Korea Landing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—Military spokesmen in Washington said today that U.S. and allied naval forces in strength are off the west coast of Korea but that no information concerning a possible landing attempt has been received.

A Navy information officer referred to the Inchon-Seoul area as "vital" to American plans, but explained that he only meant that this is one of the important production and transport areas of Korea.

He said that there was "nothing in official dispatches" to indicate that the heavy bombardment of Inchon by U.S. and British warships was a preliminary for an amphibious landing attempt.

Concerning Communist claims that they sank four American troop landing ships and five small destroyers off Inchon, the Navy spokesman said that it "sounded like a typical Communist distortion." He added that he had no information whatsoever on the subject.

Bandits Shoot Two Messengers; Get $23,000 Loot

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Two payroll messengers were shot and wounded today by two bandits who fled with an estimated $23,000.

Police reported that the holdup and shooting occurred on the first floor of a business building at 625 Madison Ave. while the men were carrying the payroll consigned to Patbe Laboratory Co. in uptown Manhattan.

The messengers, employes of the Moran and Lindall Payroll Messenger Service, were taken to Roosevelt hospital. They were identified by police as Harold O'Connor, 43, and Joseph Gilar, the latter being described as in serious condition.

Movement Of Enemy Supplies Near Standstill

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Continued poor weather hampered United Nations air operations over Korea today but the U. S. Far East air forces headquarters announced that "major movement" of enemy supplies and equipment is "virtually at a standstill."

Up until mid-afternoon fighter-bombers operating under the Fifth Air Force had flown a mere 164 sorties—a low number compared to previous operations.

Two Pilots Lost

Fifth Air Force headquarters reported that two fighter-bombers were lost with their pilots today. An F-80 jet fighter crashed and burned near Kasan on the northwestern front. A helicopter was dispatched to the rescue but was unable to find the pilot.

Far northwest of the battle front above the 38th parallel, a Mustang fighter was hit by small arms fire in the Kumchon area, then struck a power line and crashed and burned.

In announcing virtual stoppage of large scale North Korean military supply movements, a Far East Air Forces spokesman said a "multiple" interdiction program was almost completed ten days after it began.

Traffic At Halt

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, Far East Air Forces chief, announced:

"Aerial reconnaissance now shows large scale traffic in enemy-held Korea to all intents and purposes is at a halt as of today."

Johnstown Banker Loses His Wallet

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(INS)—A Johnstown, Pa., banker lost a wallet containing $1,000 in traveler's checks, $900 cash and a $750 ring while changing trains in Philadelphia.

The loss was reported by Bernard Hendler, 72, president of the First National Bank of Cassandra to police in Atlantic City, N. J., who notified Philadelphia detectives today.

Hendler said he noticed the wallet was missing after leaving a washroom at north Philadelphia station Sunday. He was enroute from Johnstown to Atlantic City for a vacation.

Sorties In Korea Pass 30,000 Mark

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Far East Air Forces announced today the number of allied sorties in the Korean war has passed the 30,000 mark.

This makes an average of 385 a day during 78 days of continuous action.

The air force said it has thrown against the North Koreans 46,000 rockets, 24,000 bombs, 16 million 50 caliber bullets and 38 million leaflets.

First Group Of Draftees To Leave Sept. 28

County Group Goes Sept. 28; City Group Leaves September 29

Lawrence county's first group of drafted men will leave for induction into the armed forces at Pittsburgh on September 28, it was announced today at Harrisburg by Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state director of selective service. The call for the state is 2,170 men, of which County Board 86 will furnish 28; and city board 87 will furnish 30.

Inductions will take place at Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, and Philadelphia. Gross stated that the number called exceeds the quota "because of certain necessary losses after the order to report for induction."

County Board 86's men leave for Pittsburgh on the 28th, while the city men, from Board 87 leave on September 29.

Physical Exam Calls

In the meantime, men called up for physical examination will be sent to Pittsburgh the preceding week, Board 86 sending their men on September 20 and City Board 87 will send theirs on September 22. Those passing the physical examinations will be inducted in October.

The list of those called for induction is now being prepared by the local boards here, and will be ready shortly, it is announced.

More Offers Of Ground Troops

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Offers of ground troops for the United Nations fighting forces in Korea have been accepted from Belgium and the Netherlands, official sources disclosed today.

The latest addition to the UN command under General Douglas MacArthur includes two or three companies of infantry from the Netherlands government. It was understood that Belgium, which is supplied with stocks of American-made weapons, is prepared to contribute somewhat larges forces.

Great Britain, Austria, New Zealand, France, Thailand and Turkey head the list of countries who heretofore offered and had received proposed military units for the Korean war.

Assistance in other forms, preliminary air and naval, has come from Greece, Norway, Sweden, South Africa and India. The latter has placed ambulance units at the disposal of MacArthur's forces.

Swift Action Being Sought On 17.2 Defense Billions

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Senate leaders press for swift approval today of a bill to pour 17.2 billion dollars into emergency defense projects at home and abroad.

The bill, approved last night by the appropriations senators added given top priority and was expected to encounter no serious trouble on the Senate floor.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., hopes to get the measure through Congress and into the president's hands by Saturday. Except for minor changes, it has already received House approval.

Before reporting out the bill, the appropriations senators aded 414 million dollars to the 16.7 billions approved by the house. The largest items 11.5 billions for domestic military spending and four billions for arms for America's anti-Communist allies were left unchanged except for substantial increases in army and navy medical funds.

The bill is designed to help step

Assistant Attorney General Resigns

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—President Truman accepted today the resignation of Herbert A. Bergson as assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

Bergson submitted his resignation, effective September 30. He did not explain why he was leaving the Justice Department.

He said, in his resignation letter, that the President's belief in anti-trust enforcement "has been a constant inspiration to me in the performance of my duties."

Contracts Let For New School

To Start Work On New School At Mt. Jackson Soon

Contracts for the construction of an eight-room grade school in Mt. Jackson were let at a meeting of the North Beaver township school board Wednesday night.

General contract was awarded to Merle L. Dicks company of New Castle, for $78,161. Heating contract was awarded to Frank P. Andrews and Sons of New Castle for $11,397. Plumbing contract also went to Andrews for $4,747. Electric contract was let to Huston Electric company of New Castle for $2,569.95.

Work on the new building will begin as soon as possible.

Miss Margaret Adams of Ellwood City, commercial teacher; Mrs. Phyllis Koach of Ellwood City, home economics teacher; Mrs. Grace Craig, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, grade school. Miss Adams and Mrs. Koach are sisters.

Next meeting of the board will be held on September 22.

B. & O. Master Mechanic Is Located Here

G. H. Rosenberg, master mechanic of the Akron-Chicago division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has been transferred to New Castle Junction with a staff of four.

For a number of years the office of the division master mechanic has been in Akron, O., but it is felt by B & O officials that a master mechanic should be located at the largest shop unit on his division. In this case it is New Castle.

With him comes his secretary, a chief clerk and two stenographers. Mr. Rosenberg will move his family to New Castle from Akron when he locates a suitable home.

Announcement is also made of the transfer of E. L. Farrell from the Cumberland division as assistant road foreman of engines replacing I. L. Wolford who returns to the Cumberland division.

May Forecast Plan To Land Allied Troops

No Information On Size Of Armada Sharing In Attack

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—Communist-occupied Seoul's vital port of Inchon, far behind the Korean battle front, felt the weight today of a thunderous shelling by U. S. and British warships, accompanied by wide-spread air blows.

The Allied naval gun bombardment, coinciding with widespread carrier-sprung air strikes along the middle Korean western seaboard, struck the enemy 160 miles behind the South Korean battlefront.

Recalls World War Moves

The combined shelling and bombing blows commenced yesterday and recalled the intensive Worlad War II softening up bombardments that served as preludes for Gen. Douglas MacArthur's long-sweeping amphibious landings.

Commenting on the Pyongyang claim of having sunk nine and damaged three American vessels off Inchon, the U. S. Navy's public information officer in Tokyo said tonight:

"It's all news to me."

He added that any announcements of American losses or casualties would have to come from Washington, saying:

"That has been the policy in the past and it will be the policy in the future."

Launched Wednesday, the dramatic naval bombardment of Inchon and its surrounding area by American and British cruisers and destroyers recalled similar World War II operations that softened by enemy defenses for Allied amphibious landings.

Only Official News

But up until Thursday night the only official United Nations news of the smash at the deep western flank of the enemy's rear was a terse announcement stating simply that the naval and air attacks were carried out.

Other than the mention of cruisers, destroyers and carrier-borne planes, there was no official indication of the types or numbers of the vessels involved.

As yet, there was no announcement concerning the size and full composition of the armada that sailed around Korea's southern rim and far up the west coast to Report Damage To Destroyer Is Superficial

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The navy announced today that three destroyers were "superficially" damaged by short batteries during the bombardment of Inchon by U. S. and Allied naval forces.

The announcement said that casualties were light."

A navy spokesman said that the official dispatch from the Far East did not mention any other damage, and that he assumed that the three destroyers were the only Allied vessels hit.

Parole Given Andrew May

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—The U. S. Parole Board announced today that it has granted a parole to ex-Rep. Andrew J. May (D) Ky., now serving an eight to 24 month sentence for war contracts fraud conspiracy.

May will be released from Ashland, Ky., federal prison next Monday and is expected to resume private law practice.

Convicted In 1947

The 75-year-old ex-Congressman was convicted of using his influence as wartime chairman of the House Military Affairs committee to obtain war contracts for munitions makers Henry M. and Murray W. Garsson.

Courtroom evidence showed that May received $53,000 from the Garsson brothers. He began serving his sentence last December and was turned down for parole last August.

May is the second former member of Congress to be paroled within five days. Last Sunday, ex-Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) N.J., was freed from Danbury federal prison where he had served about nine months of a six to 18-month sentence for accepting salary "kickbacks" from his congressional employees.

SWIFT ACTION BEING SOUGHT ON 17.2 BILLIONS FOR DEFENSE

up the U. S. defense program to meet the demands of the Korean war and the tense international situation.

5,000 New Planes

The military money will provide more than 5,000 new war planes, reactivate or replace many navy vessels and boost tank production.

The four billion dollars for foreign arms will greatly strengthen democracy's overseas outposts.

Virtually every request made by President Truman for defense money was granted in full in the bill.

In addition to straight military items, the Senate measure provides 97 million dollars for a vastly expanded voice of America, 260 millions for stepped up production of atomic and hydrogen bombs, and 598 millions to help build up stockpiles of needed materials.

Sixty million dollars are provided to operate the massive price-wage-rationing machinery and other sections of the recently-passed economic controls bill.

Another six million dollars will go toward strengthening the FBI to meet increasing threats of sabotage, subversion and espionage.

The only major presidential request rejected was for 139.8 million dollars to finance the removal of about 40 thousand government employes in strategic agencies to new quarters beyond atom bomb radius of metropolitan Washington.

Record Consumption Of Natural Gas

PITTSBURGH—(INS) — Consumption of natural gas by the steel industry reached a record high of 750,000 cubic feet a minute in 1949.

The American Iron and Steel Institute also reported that records were established in the use of zinc, titanium and cobalt in the steel industry.

The consumption of natural gas totaled about 399 million cubic feet, an increase of 45 per cent over 1948, and 10 per cent over 1943, the previous record year.

Steel companies used an average of 3,492 gallons of fuel oil every minute during 1949, a decrease of 16 per cent from 1948.

BIG THREE IN CONFERENCE ON GERMANY'S ROLE

recruited—and armed by the Allies—for absorption in the anticipated unified command.

But French sources reported that agreement already had been reached "in principle" on a heavily-increased West German police force.

It was suggested that establishment of an "adequately armed" mobile police force in Western Germany might be an answer to the problem. But sometime tonight, the decision will probably emerge.

President Truman already has announced that the U. S. is mobilizing three million men or more, converting major industry to armaments production, and will throw 15 billion dollars into a common defense kitty this year, 30 billions next year, and probably more thereafter.

Have 27 Divisions

The Russians, according to Allied intelligence, have some 27 fully equipped divisions off the eastern border of Germany.

Further, as Acheson has publicly charged, the Soviet have mobilized a "police force" in their eastern occupation zone—which actually amounts to an army, trained and equipped for all manner of ground warfare.

One issue Acheson is believed pressing hard is the U. N. demand that France and Britain step up their own mobilization and armaments program. The U. S., pointing toward the immense strides toward full preparedness it has taken since the outbreak of the Korean war, wants France and Britain to carry their full share of the European defense burden.

But before the full Atlantic Council convenes Friday, the Big Three are expected to have taken all the decisions necessary to form a common front to be laid down before the other pact members.

The council is then expected to act speedily to ratify these agreements, so that the Atlantic Pact countries can enter the United Nations assembly meeting September 19 as a compactly-welded group, with common policies.

Pittsburgh Expands Production Of Coal

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The U. S. Steel Corporation has launched a multi-million dollar program to expand its coal production in the Pittsburgh district.

"Big Steel" announced it is opening a new 4000-ton a day mine in Washington county, and another 4000-ton a day mine, which has been closed for 22 years, will be reopened in Fayette county.

The announcement by the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a U. S. Steel subsidiary stated that the new diggings are needed to "help meet the continuing demand for additional coal required to make more steel for national defense purposes."

The over-all improvement plan calls for an increase of daily production from 55,000 to about 67,000 in Pennsylvania and West Irginia over a 10-year period.

Many Cities

Many cities were represented in the convoy. Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Carbondale, Kingston, Williamsport, Stroudsburg and many others.

Like the fliers in World War II the men had pet names on many of the vehicles. One was named "Korean Kid," another "Sparks," still others were "Nuts and Bolts," "Aw Nuts," "Dimple," "Off Limits," "Leadfoot," "The Bug," "Hot Dogs," and "Angel," to name a few.

A detail of military police left fifteen minutes earlier than the main body. The main body was piloted through New Castle by city police cars to Parkstown Corners.

Cunningham Armory now returns to a standby basis. The local Armory Board will have charge of it and no civilian functions will be permitted in it. Orville Potter, a member of the board has charge of the property.

It is probable that a unit of the State Guard will be formed here. If it is formed, the unit will use the armory as its headquarters.

Fellowship Set Up For Exploratory Work On Coal Acid Waste

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The commonwealth has set up a $35,000 fellowship at Pittsburgh's Mellon Institute of Industrial Research for exploratory work in the field of acid wastes from coal mines.

The research will cover formation and occurrence of acids in coal mines and development of methods for reducing acid generation.

Acid mine drainage is one of the chief contaminators of clean streams. So far no practical means has been devised to eliminate it.

The arrangements for the fellowship were made by Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux with the Mellon Institute.

No Information On Successor To Secretary Early

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—George Killion, president of the American President Lines, declared today that he has no information on roports that he will succeed Stephen T. Early as deputy secretary of defense.

Killion made this statement after a call on President Truman, which he described as "social" in character.

He declared he had heard "rumors" just as newsmen had that he would receive a government post. But he professed to know nothing about such prospects.

focus attention upon the industrial greatness and diversification of the area will be Lawrence county's bid for a place in the state-wide picture.

College Homecoming

Window displays of industrial activities and products will be a major part of the showing. Westminster college will stage its homecoming as a sort of climax.

Ellwood City schools and civic leaders will merge forces to produce a mammoth pageant October 18 in the stadium, telling the industrial, civic and cultural story in music, tableaux and an interspersion of commentaries.

Churches will be a part of the observance with special messages from pulpits and in church bulletins.

Fifteen people discussed the plans over a dutch treat turkey dinner. A check-up by telephone will take place October 5 to work out any remaining problems.

WIMODAUSIS ENJOYS LUNCHEON EVENT

A "guest day" luncheon was the highlight of the meeting of the Wimodausis on Wednesday at the Cathedral. Three hundred twenty-five ladies enjoyed the one o'clock lunch in the East dining room, with mixed flowers in yellow containers gracing the tables. A large basket of gladioli centered the room.

Hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. A. C. Dietterle, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. William Braatz, and Mrs. Harvey Hickling. Mrs. Roy Long gave the invocation.

The ladies were then invited to the main dining room where Mrs. Walter Gilmore, president, introduced Mrs. Dale Gardner, program chairman. Mrs. Gardner presented Mrs. E. E. Kirkwood of Youngstown, and Mrs. Ada Chambers and Mrs. M. M. Diehl of Canfield, O. The trio invited the ladies to turn back the pages of time and once again view the fashion book of the Civil War period, "Godey"s Lady's Review".

The lovely gowns are owned by the ladies, with a history of the dresses disclosing the fact that they were obtained from a Massachusetts family in 1878. Charming ball gowns, fashioned of velvet, satin, and lace, are modeled by Mrs. Diehl and Mrs. Chambers. The young bride-to-be, portrayed by Mrs. Diehl, is eager to let her aunt, played by Mrs. Chambers, see the trousseau for her marriage.

Finally, with all the loveliness of a young bride, Mrs. Diehl stands in the antique wedding dress. Through the charming personality, fine acting, and humorous dialogue and authentic costumes, the actresses brought the members of the Wimodausis a scintillating picture of the past. The new piano, purchased by the Wimodausis, was used at the show.

Business was conducted by the president, with fall plans discussed. The next meeting will be held in October.

MANCINO-GALANSKI ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Mancino, of 937 Harrison street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Gail, to Charles William Galanski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Galanski, of the Covert road.

There is no definite date set for the wedding.

MRS. G. McCORKHILL AT BESSEMER CLUB

Mrs. Georgia McCorkhill of Salem, Ohio, was guest speaker of Bessemer Woman's club when members gathered in the Bessemer Presbyterian church Tuesday evening for their first fall meeting.

President, Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen conducted the business session, with the club collect read by members. Reports were read by the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Frank Robb and Mrs. K. E. Manewal, respectively. Various committee reports were heard at the meeting.

Business was adjourned, and the meeting turned over to the program chairman, Miss Florence Ehle. The club women were delighted with the "William Tell Overture" by Rosssini, played by Janet and Janice Magill of Columbiana, Ohio. Janet Magill then further entertained the group with the spirited "Nola" by Felix Arndt.

Mrs. McCorkhill, guest speaker, chose as her topic the interesting subject of "Antiques and Hobbies." She described her collection of old china dishes, and gave an excellent history of the willow pattern. She displayed a collection of old buttons and marbles that was her hobby.

The meeting was brought to a close with a piano solo of the old favorite "Deep Purple" by Peter DeRose, played by Janice Magill.

Later, the members enjoyed a social period in the church parlors, with lunch served from prettily arranged tables by Mrs. A. A. Shoup and her committee.

POLKA DOT CLUB PLANS ANNIVERSARY

Members of the Polka Dot club made plans for their first anniversary when the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. John Zduriencik, Pennsylvania avenue, Wednesday evening.

Canasta was the pleasant diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. Edward Kendra and consolation to Mrs. John Nakoneczny. The club token was presented to Mrs. Thad Bukowski.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Frank Ostrowski. The next meeting will be the anniversary party on September 27, with a dinner and theater party to be highlights of the occasion.

Mr. And Mrs. C. McCandless To Have 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. McCandless of 444 Croton avenue, well-known lifetime residents of this city, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on Saturday, September 16. Open house will be held from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p. m.

The couple was married in New Castle, September 16, 1890 by the Rev. C. H. Dunlap, who was at that time pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. McCandless was the former Rachel Shaffer, daughter of John and Jane Shaffer of Mercer, Pa. Mr. McCandless was in the meat business for over twenty years at the present location of the Vogue theater.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Jane Porter, 399 Neshannock avenue, one granddaughter, Mrs. Kenneth Enoch of Phoenix, Ariz., and one great grandson, Chuckie.

Mr. McCandless will be 89 years old on January 13, 1951, and Mrs. McCandless will be 83 years old February 8, 1951.

G.L.G. CLASS WITH MRS. BEN GARDNER

Members of the G. L. G. class of the Grace Bible church met at the home of Mrs. Ben Gardner, Alborn avenue, on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Gardner led the devotions, and following the business meeting a social period was enjoyed by the group. The class remembered the birthday of their teacher, Mrs. Gardner, with a hankie shower.

Special guests were Mrs. Munnel, Mrs. Alsworth, and Mrs. Bertha Graff. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Bernice Houk.

WILMA MORRIS WEDS CLARENCE LIVERMORE

Arlington avenue First Free Methodist church was the scene of a late summer wedding, Tuesday, September 5 at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Wilma Morris became the bride of Clarence Livermore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Morris of R.D. 2, New Castle, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livermore of R.D. 2, Sharon.

Rev. Paul C. Millard, former pastor of the Free Methodist church in Titusville, Pa., united the couple in marriage. The candlelight ceremony was performed before an altar embanked with ferns and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her eldest brother, Leonard, of Meadville, was charming in her bridal gown of white crepe, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and fitted bodice, with long sleeves pointed over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was held by a small coronet, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby mums.

Miss Martha Morris, only sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor, wearing a blue crepe gown styled like that of the bride. Miss Alma Lutz, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a pink taffeta gown. Both attendants carried bouquets of pink roses.

Thomas Livermore served his brother as best man, and Wendell Morris, twin brother of the bride, was head usher. James Cochran, close friend of the couple, was also an usher.

Appropriate wedding music was presented by Miss Greta McGaffic, Mrs. Lois Cochran and Mrs. Gula Blews. The trio sang "Whisper That You Love Me," "I Love You Truly," and hummed the wedding march as the bridal party proceeded down the aisle. As the couple knelt in prayer, the girls sang "Oh Perfect Love."

A reception for one hundred fifty guests was held in the Green room of the Y.W.C.A. Mr. and Mrs. Livermore later departed for a trip through several Pennsylvania and New Jersey cities and will be at their home on Fairgreen avenue, R.D. 8, Highland Heights soon.

The bride, a graduate of the Union high school, is employed at the Shenango Pottery. The groom, a graduate of the Hickory high school, Sharon, is a representative for the Midland Mutual Insurance company.

CAPONE-TOMEI CHURCH NUPTIALS

Mr. and Mrs. Ennio Tomei, bride and groom of September 4, will reside at 1407 Laurel Place upon their return from a trip to an undisclosed destination. Mrs. Tomei, nee Miss Della Capone, is a daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Capone, 1407 Laurel Place, while her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomei, Boyers.

The young couple exchanged vows at 8 o'clock in the morning at St. Vitus with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiating at the impressive double ring service.

Given in marriage by Eugene Pidro, her brother-in-law, the lovely bride was attired in a white satin gown, fashioned princess style, with a high neckline, long sleeves, tapering at the wrist, and the full skirt, ending in a train. Her finger tip veil of net fell from a crown of seed pearls. Two orchids centered her bouquet of white lilies. She wore a rhinestone necklace, the groom's gift.

Miss Virginia DeCesare, who served as maid-of-honor, wore a maize gown, while the Misses Anna Mae Malizia, the bride's niece; Lola Tomei, Boyers, the groom's sister; and Anna DeCesare, the groom's cousin, were bridesmaids, being attired in lime green gowns. The attendants whose hats and mitts matched their gowns, carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Louis Parrenti, Boyers, acted as best man for the groom. John Moronti, Lowellville, O., Joseph Malizia, both nephews of the bride, Anthony Andreassi, Boyers, the bride's cousin, and John Tomei, also of Boyers, the groom's brother, were ushers.

A breakfast was served to the wedding party at the bride's home with a dinner following at a local inn. Guests were entertained at a reception in the evening at St. Margaret's hall.

Mrs. Tomei is an employee of the Shenango Pottery Co., while her husband is employed by the Fenati Brick Co.

Erocs Club Party

Mrs. Frank Faller of Cecil avenue welcomed members of the Erocs club into her home on Tuesday evening.

Bridge was the favorite diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. John Young, Miss Helen Hanna, and Mrs. Walter Pierz.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held on October 17 at the home of Miss Frances Scuba, Liberty street.

GLORIOSO-STAPH EXCHANGE OF VOWS

A gown of white lace and satin was worn by Miss Lillian Glorioso as she became the bride of John Staph, Jr., on Saturday, September 2.

Wedding vows were exchanged in St. Vitus church at 8 a.m., with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiating at the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with ferns and palms for the occasion.

Miss Glorioso is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Glorioso of R. D. 6, and Mr. Staph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staph, Sr., R. D. 9, New Castle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported French lace over duchess satin, styled with a high neckline. The nylon yoke presented an off-shoulder effect trimmed with lace appliques. The bouffant skirt ended in a circular court train of French lace. A crown of rhinestones and silver baguettes held her fingertip veil of tulle, and she carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book, topped with three orchids and streamers of stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a necklace, the groom's gift.

Miss Augusta Fiedler, as maid of honor, wore an off-shoulder velveteen gown of forrest green, fashioned with fitted bodice, and matching dutch hat. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow tea roses.

Organ music for the ceremony was played by Mrs. Frances Coloa.

A wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party in a local hall and dinner was served to the party and immediate families at a local dinning room. In the evening, a reception was held at the Arena, with 600 guests attending. Dance music was furnished by a local orchestra.

The newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to New York, New Jersey and other points, and will reside at R. D. 6, New Castle upon their return.

Mrs. Staph is an employee at the Davis market, and Mr. Staph is affiliated with the Universal-Rundle company.

GREEN-NICOLSON IMPRESSIVE RITE

St. Joseph's church was the scene of one of the season's loveliest weddings Monday, Sept. 11, as Miss Ann Elizabeth Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Green, 213 Clen-More boulevard, was united in marriage to Donald Russell Nicolson of Charlotte, N. C., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jerome S. Nicolson of New York City.

Rev. Fr. Cornelius H. Becker officiated at the single ring ceremony, with only the immediate families present when the young couple exchanged wedding vows. Late in the afternoon a reception was given in the New Castle Country club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight bridal satin, fashioned with long sleeves and an aisle-wide train. The bodice was enhanced with appliqued bands of alencon lace. Her fingertip veil was attached to a satin cloche edged with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white baby mums and stephanotis.

As maid of honor Miss Carolyn Green, sister of the bride, was lovely in a gown of ice blue satin, as were the bridesmaids, Miss Katherine Kenney, Winnetka, Ill., cousin of the bride, and Miss Peggy Martin of Toms' Creek, Va.

Bernard Black of New York City attended the groom as best man, and the ushers included Samuel F. Blythe and David W. Evans, both of Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Nicolson attended Sweet Briar college, graduating from the University of North Carolina with the class of June, 1950. Mr. Nicolson, a veteran of World War II, is also a graduate of the University of North Carolina with the class of 1949.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Nicolson departed for a wedding trip and will make their home in Charlotte, N. C.

W. C. MEMBERS WITH MRS. HAROLD CLARK

Mrs. Harold Clark of Round street graciously entertained members of the W. C. club in her home on Monday evening.

Television and "500" were favorite pastimes, with high score trophies for cards awarded to Mrs. Phillip Clark and Mrs. Joseph Flynn.

A tempting lunch was later served at a prettily arranged table. An attractive centerpiece of zinnias decorated the table. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Stephen Coss, Mrs. C. Clark, and Mrs. Phillip Clark.

Mrs. George Jackson of Round street invited the ladies to her home to view her night-blooming cereus which has five blooms.

1914 Book Club

Members of the 1914 Book club will enjoy an opening luncheon at a New Wilmington tea room on Friday, September 15 at one o'clock.

Eight Spots Club

Eight Spots club was entertained Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Donald Withers, 127 Park avenue.

Mrs. Warren Hoye and Mrs. Howard Tindal were awarded tokens for cards. Later the hostess served a tasty lunch.

Mrs. Warren Hoye, Mills Way, will entertain September 27.

BUSY DOZEN CLUB PLANS FOR SUPPER

Plans were made for a supper party when members of the Busy Dozen club met at the home of Mrs. Jennie Briggs, Cascade street, Wednesday evening.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lena Mehalic, with new members initiated. The supper will be held September 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Domenis Sylvester, East Brook road. Husbands will be special guests of the occasion.

Sewing was later enjoyed, with the club token awarded to Mrs. Briggs. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lena DeSalvo, East Brook road, September 27.

FRANCE DRAWS A LINE

France has been called a politically philosophic nation, and perhaps there is good reason for it. The aplomb of the workaday Frenchman is, for example, disturbed very little by the fact that his government has fallen since the last issue of his daily newspaper was published. But outward appearances may be deceiving.

In the eyes of Minister of the Interior Henri Queuille, hundreds of alien Communists have been taking advantage of the hospitality France traditionally offers to outsiders. During the last few days more than 250 Reds and Red sympathizers—most of them Spaniards—have been rounded up and are being escorted to the borders.

This is the initial stage of a drive to rid the country of its spies and saboteurs. Many an American is probably wishing Reds with reasonable intent in this country were recipients of the same boot down the back stairs.

Perhaps the strangest thing about this rooting out of unwanted guests is the closer relationship that has come about between the governments of France and Spain. Most Frenchmen hold no brief for Franco's dictator regime. But indications are that the French government is indebted to Franco for putting the finger of these Spaniards whose fealty is to Moscow.

The action taken by France amounts to some dusting around the house. This roundup cannot be termed a housecleaning for the reason that it doesn't purge the country of its present danger. There remain an unknown number of aliens with treasonable intent, plus, of course, the 750,000 card-carrying members of the French Communist party who have vowed openly to fight for Russia should she attack France.

But the French Republic appears to have reached the point where it feels that things have gone far enough, and that a line must be drawn.

POLES APART

Coincidental with the defections of some 20 Polish diplomats in the United States, the Polish government is stepping up its propaganda line in America to prove that Polish citizens are really doing quite well under the Russians.

A Polish publication in New York sings the praises of the Soviet-sponsored regime. It emphasizes the reconstruction of Warsaw, battered by Nazis and Soviets alike, and boasts the dedication of a statue of Lenin in Poland.

The publication indicates weakness, however, by revealing sabotage at a mine in Upper Silesia. Two top officials were given 10 years imprisonment; four minor executives from three to eight-year terms.

FOOD SURPLUSES

The Korean crisis has placed the Agriculture department in the peculiar position of having to urge farmers to keep on producing abundantly even while vast stores of some commodities pile up under government price support programs.

Imminent threat of another world war makes it essential that the government have within easy reach huge reserves of wheat, corn, cotton, and other staples just in case there should be a crop failure during the critical period ahead.

Top officials, therefore, are telling farm audiences that the best way to avoid stringent controls on production and distribution of food is to keep on doing what comes naturally —producing big crops.

The prospect is that adjustments in farm production—notably a shift from raw crops to livestock farming—will be postponed for some months until the atmosphere in the Far East clarifies.

This can only mean that farmers will continue to work some mid-western lands that might better be left in grasses and legumes for pastures. It brings up the menace of the dust bowl—a threat that loomed in a minor way this spring.

CROWDED GRADE SCHOOLS

One-fourth of the nation's population—36,000,000 boys and girls—are back in school and college. Enrollment has gained 4,000,000 over last year.

Of these nearly 30,000,000 are in elementary schools, more than 6,000,000 in college. Public school enrollment is more than six times as large as that of private elementary and secondary schools.

This growing school population is at once the nation's pride and one of its greatest problems. Shortages of teachers and facilities are already acute and will become more so.

This year 22,460 persons with four years of college work behind them are available as elementary school teachers. This total is inadequate to meet demands, according to Dr. R. C. Maul, dean of Emporia, Kansas, State Teachers college, who surveyed teacher supply for the National Education Association.

More than 45,000 elementary school teachers will retire after the current term, it is estimated. If they are replaced there will still be a shortage of 20,000 in the ranks of elementary teachers. But there is no longer a shortage of high school teachers.

There is much work to be done if America is to provide adequate facilities for the increasing host of its children seeking knowledge.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

But One Major Intention

The unwelcome but undeniable fact that it takes a war or grave diplomatic crisis to weld the western democracies in complete unity was underscored today by the atmosphere of the big three meeting in New York.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson is meeting with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman. And from the very first moment it was evident that this was to be a streamlined conference.

Brush Aside Differences

Differences are being brushed aside and non-essential items have no place on the agenda. Each of the leading conferees has made it clear that there is but one major intention—to gird against possible Soviet aggression and make certain that there is entire cooperation on every score.

British Prime Minister Attlee facilitated the conversations to some degree by his statement to the House of Commons in advance of the the meeting.

He outlined Britain's three-year 10 billion, 60 million dollar defense program and said quite frankly that this is about the country's limit unless a real war economy is reimposed.

This would unbalance Britain's precarious projects that draw funds from the treasury.

May Not Press Further

It is unlikely, therefore, that Acheson will press Bevin further on the financial aspects of rearmament. More likely he will try to find out what gaps the British government has left unfilled, if any, and then determine to what extent the United States can fill the bill.

With regard to Schuman, it seems apparent that the main point will be what use is to be made of German manpower in the defense of western Europe.

For the present at least, the project of a full-scale German army appears to be out of the question.

As always, this is opposed by the rank and file in France. Attlee indicated less opposition on the part of Britain. But he did insist that anything in the nature of German rearmament must be entirely within the framework of existing defense arrangements.

In other words, a German army as such is eliminated for the foreseeable future.

Have Undying Fear

The nations of western Europe have an undying fear that a new German officer corps might in time re-establish a dynamic German nationalism that could again invite chaos to the world.

An alternative will be a considerable increase in the size and perhaps the rearmament of western Germany's police force, which at present totals only 10,000 men.

How big this will become no one can say.

Present reports say that initial boost will be to 35,000 men. But this may be merely a nucleus of a far larger force, which in time may be integrated with the western German armies, converting them into an actual fighting potential under strictest allied control.

Curious Picture

The present New York meeting presents a curious picture. The big three is supposed to be the big four. But the fourth component is across the East river at Lake Success in the person of Jacob Malik of the Soviet Union, and his superior, Foreign Minister Vishinsky, is on his way to attend the United Nations General Assembly.

This, incidentally, emphasizes one of the reasons why France is so chary of German rearmament.

It is not forgotten that even before the advent of Adolf Hitler, Republican Germany became restive and began to tire of the old League of Nations, possibly before any other country.

Soviet Russia at last is staying on.

That may be to her own advantage from the propaganda point of view. But it at least means that superficially the Soviets recognize international authority, and in any case have not amassed the arrogance to insult and quit the organization entirely, as Germany did at Geneva.

The Russians are not present at the big three talks but they can be expected to participate vigorously in the assembly session. But the allied role will be an equally active one. And if the big three meeting is any criterion, it will display an allied harmony and determination unequalled since the blackest days of the second world war.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

White House advice ot Democratic candidates is "shake hands with as many voters as possible"... And there is that other axiom for contenders, "keep moving and don't forget to duck."

The theory is that when you've shaken hands with a man you have his vote...Unless you see him counting his fingers as he walks away.

But Democratic candidates in Maine shook a lot of hands and lost the election...Now they wonder if they were shaking hands or lobster claws.

The campaign in New York City is starting to get hot..."We've got a Democrat running with liberal backing, a Democrat running with independent backing, and both Democrats hope to have some Democrat backing.

There is also a Republican in the race. He's just running... But watch that back stretch.

My short wave set doesn't work on California...Are you still there Jimmie?

Problem The Parent

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUTH'S CHOICE OF A CAREER

The average youth in the United States has relatively little help at home or school in the choice of his life's work, and still less in the guidance of the subjects he should pursue at school in accordance with his choices, interests and aptitudes.

When guidance is best at school it is done in cooperation with the home. Ever so many parents still suppose they should dictate to the child what vocation he should choose regardless of his interests or aptitudes. The wise guidance teacher tries to induce the parents and the youth to consider what he would like most to do, together with a second or third preference; the possible opportunities for the vocation when he is prepared for it and the likelihood that this youth will be able and have the opportunity to prepare for it.

Youth and Parents

Frequently a youth and his parents have chosen a vocation for him even when he might have the ability to prepare for this vocation, only to discover just before commencement that this youth has not pursed the necessary subjects to prepare him for entering the kind of college or vocational school that would lead him toward such vocational preparation.

There are still many students whose parents or who themselves have aspired to enter a field without having achieved well enough at books to warrant their hoping to succeed educationally in this direction. Some of these students are being allowed to pursue courses which they barely pass or fail entirely. In the better managed schools this rarely happens. There the youth has not only been advised but ordered by the school to avoid certain subjects if he has not attained a standard of proficiency leading up to them.

High Achievement

To our knowledge, however, no guidance program requires students with high achievement and indicated aptitudes in a certain learning direction to pursue a harder rather than an easier subject. While more students should be barred from certain subjects requiring the jumping of high hurdles, so also many more students should, with the consent of their parents, be required to pursue certain harder subjects.

The technical world of commerce and industry of tomorrow will require discipline in the skills and knowledge of mathematics, exact sciences and foreign languages. Not just for wider usefulness and opportunities, but also for growth in character, bright students should be guided into courses which require hard work and vigorous mental discipline.

Bible Thought

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WHAT HAS TO BE

What had to be he tried to bear
Without resentment or dismay.
When he had wanted weather fair
But woke to face a rainy day,
He'd change his plays and dress for rain
Until the skies were clear again.

When he could help himself he tried
To do the very best he could.
But when his hopes were all denied
And naught could change the bad to good,
"There's nothing now to do," said he,
"But face it as it has to be."

What could be bettered with his aid
He fought to better night and day,
But this distinction always made:
When every hope was swept away,
Knowing it useless to compain,
He dressed for trouble as for rain.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

There are a lot of topics to discuss right now . . . almost everyone has his own idea about what is happening in Korea . . . what will happen if this happens and what will happen if that doesn't happen . . . and then there are some who will take time to discuss Formosa . . . an important spot on the map. Formosa is about the size of Massachusetts and Connecticut combined . . . and is seperated from China by a strait from 90 to 220 miles wide . . . the population is about seven million or equal to Australia but Australia is 200 times as large an area.

* * *

The Political History of Formosa is interesting . . . the bloody history, typical of oriental outposts . . . the island was settled by the Chinese in the 15th century, only to be abandoned. Then came the Dutch, who built a fort but finally were driven out by the Chinese in 1661 . . . Pirates found Formosa to their liking and used the island as a base until they were cleared out by the Japanese . . . on the promise by the Chinese that they would curb the pirates, Japanese withdrew in 1874 and Formosa remained in Chinese control until 1895, when the war between China and Japan gave the island to Japan.

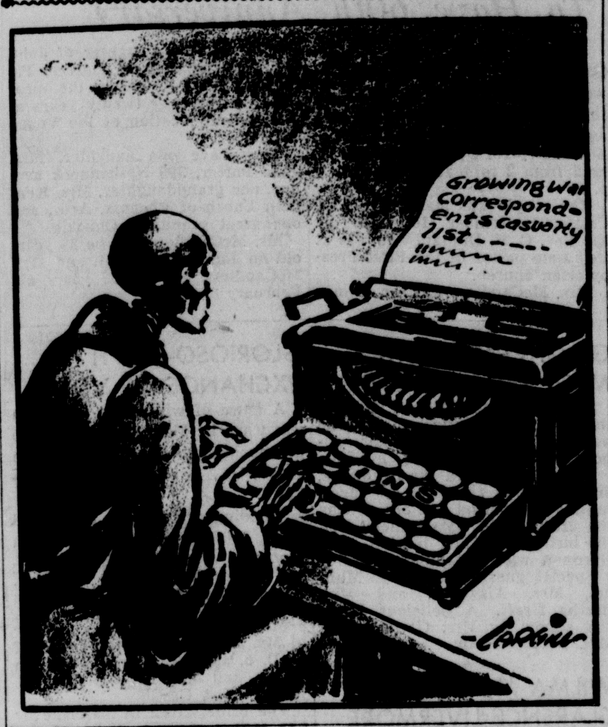

* * *

Formosa became known as "the jewel of the Orient" under the Japanese who gave Formosans everything but liberty . . . This regime ended with the surrender of the Japanese in 1945 . . . and the allied powers, including Soviet Union, agreed that the island should return to China . . . The Formosans are an independent people who never have allied themselves with anyone . . . not even Chinese or Japanese from who they sprung, or the USSR.

* * *

Today many of the inhabitants are uncivilized and some still have a reputation as headhunters . . . and the Communist used this background to accomplish their point . . . to provoke unrest among the natives, and set brother against brother like they did in Korea . . . It was a surprise move when the United States decided to "neutralize" Formosa against Communist attack . . . for it was only six months before that our government decided not to send forces to prevent Communist invasion of Formosa . . . This is all part of the picture of today's world.

'REPORTERS' ROUNDUP'

Gets Sucker Treatment

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

PARIS, France, Sept. 14.—When I was here just about this time a year ago I made a firm resolution that if I ever got back to Paris not one single, solitary drop of wine would trickle down my gullet.

Due, perhaps, to the fact that there was a great dearth of wine cellars in that section of Georgia where I was born and raised, I never clutivated a taste for wine. When I was a boy and a grower spoke of a "great year" he was talking of a great year for cotton, peaches or peanuts, not grapes.

Consequently (yes, I know I touched on this subject a year ago, so you long-memoried people can save your stamps) to expect me to enjoy wine with my meals is the same thing as asking a Frenchman to smack his lips over the prospect of having a bottle of root beer along with his truite meunier.

Would Throw Up Hands

A Frenchman, confronted with root beer at such a time, or any other time for that matter, would throw up his hands in horror and then shoot the man who suggested the combination.

I am quite sure that thousands of the Americans who visit France each year dislike wine with their meals as much as a Frenchman would dislike one of our soft drinks with his dinner. Yet Americans swallow vinyards of wine each year in France, even though they make faces while doing it and use water for a chaser.

Just as if you had asked me why we Americans do this, I am going to tell you. Going to tell you in one word. The word is fear. Yes, fear.

We are afraid of that formidable member of every French restaurant staff, the wine steward. There is no getting around him. He is always there.

I don't know where wine stewards come from, or what their backgrounds are, but they are as coldly superior in dealing with wine-ignorant customers as a field marshal is dealing with a Pfc. They hand you the wine card as if they were handing you a summons, and glare down at you, pencil poised.

They never ask if you are going to have wine, but ask what wines you want. Their tone of voice makes it quite clear that never in their lives have they run into a poltroon who had failed to order wine.

Forget All I Have Read

Just from reading and listening to other people order wine I have a faint glimmer of knowledge as to what types of wine go with what kinds of food. You know, red with meat, white with fish, champagne with anything else.

But the minute the wine steward fastens his baleful glare on me I forget all I ever read or heard about wines. I get so nervous that for the life of me I can't recall whether it's red with chicken croquettes or white with hash or rose with pork and beans, or what.

So, afraid not to order, and at the same time afraid to order lest I call for a wine so out of place that the steward will burst out laughing, I do the worst thing I could possibly do.

I look humbly up and tell the steward that I am going to leave it up to him to choose the wine for me. This automatically brands me as a sucker and I get the treatment that suckers always get.

The steward, smiling a phony smile, can't wait to rush away and bring me the most expensive wine of the worst year. It's suckers like me that take care of those poor grape years that Europe has every once in a while.

Come to think of it, I doubt if I have ever had a good bottle of wine. Could be that's why I don't like it.

Folks Of Fame

William Lyon Mackenzie King was born December 17, 1874, in Kitchener, Ontario, then called Berlin. A brilliant university career at the University of Toronto, Harvard and the University of Chicago prepared him for his life of public service in Canada. His 75-year lifetime was marked by great political successes as leader of the Canadian Liberal party. He was prime minister for more than 21 years. He first was elected to Parliament October 26, 1908. He retired in 1948. He was a man of peace who hated war, but when war came he led his country in a war effort that staggered Canada and the world. In the last weeks before he died, July 22, 1950, he was saddened by the Korean war.

Andrew Johnson was born December 29, 1908, at Raleigh, N. C. His parents were poor and did not belong to the slave-owning class, so he developed a feeling of hostility toward the dominant element in southern society. This feeling deeply affected his later life. He was apprenticed to a tailor at the age of 10, and never attended school He moved to Greenville, Tenn., in 1826 and married Eliza McCordle, who helped him in his pursuit of learning. He entered politics before he was 21, being elected an alderman. When Lincoln was assassinated in April, 1865, he succeeded to the presidency. He died July 31, 1875.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

One of Heywood Broun's pet hates was ghost-written political speeches—particularly when they failed utterly to reflect either the convictions or the personalities of the big shots who were delivering them. Warren G. Harding pulled one of these phony orations at a newsmen's banquet shortly after he had assumed the presidency—a pompous, cliche-laden address that sounded more like a circus press-agent than a president of the United States. There was some polite applause as Harding resumed his seat. Then Broun jumped up and cried, "Author! Author!"

Bob Considine and his popular wife Mildred were off for one of the innumerable parties they attend. At the door Mrs. C. embraced one of her young hopefuls and said, "Do you want to play with your electric trains tonight or just stay with Nursie?" The boy answered without hesitation, "What would Daddy do?"

NEW YORK—Count Carlo Sforza, Italain foreign minister: "The more we organize the defense of Europe, the sooner we ensure peace. If a probable aggressor feels that Europe is ready to maintain peace, peace will be maintained."

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Acheson Has Defined Policy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—This is Dean Acheson's hour. In a sense it is his vindication. The Secretary of States comes to this meeting of the Big Three Foreign Ministers with his own policy clearly defined and unequivocally endorsed by President Truman.

He can take justifiable pride in having come out on this plateau. The way up the slope has been difficult and thorny. Secretary of State Acheson has had to contest much of the way with Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

As Secretary Acheson sits down with Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman of France and Ernest Bevin of Great Britain, he will have a definite and firm set of proposals to put before them. These proposals will embody the immediate beginning of a greatly expanded defense system for western Europe on a basis of mutual contribution.

This is in accord with Acheson's long-time conviction that western Europe is the key to the peace and security of the world. It is oversimplifying the dispute to say that Acheson and Johnson were divided on the line of commitments for Asia versus commitments for Europe. But that is roughly true.

Re-Armed Western Europe

As he explained, in part at least, in the course of a television interview, his belief is that a re-armed western Europe will serve to deter the Russians from adventures on the periphery; the kind of adventures that, as in Korea, can waste away the substance and the will of the west. In other words, using the analogy of a living organism, if the heart is strong then the extremities will be greatly strengthened and the enemy will hesitate to attack.

But with the heart of Europe as weak as it is, there has seemed to be no hope anywhere. The possibility always exists that this center, this core, might be overwhelmed at any time. The whole system was built on the most shaky foundation or on no foundation at all.

Like any other positive and integrated policy, this one has its grave risks in the kind of world in which we live. There is, above all, the risk that Soviet Russia may decide to move before western Europe can be strengthened.

In the discussions in the State Department leading up to the final decision on the American position, Acheson took full account of the risks. He pointed out that in giving the "go" sign to the North Koreans, the Russians has already taken the risk of general war. Being realists, the masters of the Kremlin must have figured just how serious that risk was before they took the decision to unleash the conflict in Korea.

Time Has Passed

If the Kremlin is willing to risk a general war, Acheson has pointed out, then the west cannot hesitate because of the danger of provoking the little band of men who rule the destinies of so many millions of people. The time has passed when a wait-to-see-what-happens stance can look like anything but the unhappy stance of an ostrich.

The question that occurs at once is how quickly can the Acheson policy be implemented. From Frankfurt in Germany, General Mark Clark, chief of the army's field forces, expresses optimism. He says the first American troops to augment occupation forces will arrive within four months. The intimation is that five new American divisions eventually will be sent to Europe.

Other military planners are not so optimistic. They say that divisions to be sent to Europe within a relatively short time would have to be National Guard divisions. Then, what would you do about dependents? American troops now on occupation duty have their wives and children with them. To extend this privilege to guard divisions sent to west Germany would be costly and complicated.

A question with even broader implications is: What happens to these troops if months and even years go by and there is no war? America is virtually mobilized on a war footing. But none o fthe powerful incentives of a war are present. So there is serious deterioration, both economic and psychological, among soldiers and civilians.

Secretary Acheson would undoubtedly reply that this is one of the risks. In any event, he is off the dead center of rasping and harassing conflict and moving forward on a clear line in which he believes deeply and passionately.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Who says there is nothing but bad news?

Ridiculous!

There is plenty of good news—it just depends on the way you look at life—and how old you are.

By old I don't mean years alone. "Old" is a state of mind as well.

The most important item of today is headed:

"Big Lollypop News!"

I know it is important because a nine-year-old boy who lives in our neighborhood, and comes over to read the comics in my morning paper, pointed it out to me.

He forgot all about his favorite adventure strip when he saw the advertisement.

It announced an enormous new kind of lollypop in several fresh fruit flavors guaranteed to last a whole day or even more.

But the price is $1.25—and that is the one thing which depressed my young friend.

Where would he get $1.25? He looked at me questioningly. I did not fall for the hint.

Another important item is the announcement that in Florida, N. Y., the "Onion Queen of 1950" has just been crowned.

Thousands attended the event, forgot all about the war, strikes, high taxes and communism, and cheered the new queen.

My barber was also excited this morning over a piece of news.

He had read that Frank Phillips, the oil millionaire who just died at the age of seventy-six, had started his business life as a barber in Omaha.

"I was just getting discouraged," he said, "when I see that Phillips made his first stake with a hair tonic he had devised to stimulate the growth of hair."

Then he told me that he, too, had concocted a tonic.

"Want to try it?" he asked.

I said "No."

Another piece of good news:

The twelve hundred and some passengers who came over on the maiden voyage of the French liner "Liberte" consumed 4,500 bottles of champagne.

There was a water shortage on the ship—but who cares when there is plenty of champagne aboard?

And, since I must wind up my column with something to make you think, here is an item from the editorial page of the Bridgeport, Conn., Telegram:

"The psychology professor's announcement that he discovered a worm has brains didn't surprise us, as we had long believed that a worm had to have brains to get along as a worm."

I agree. But I wish the editorial writer had added another observation:

If human beings would use their brains to get along with what they HAVE rather than worry about what they would LIKE to have, be and appear, they and the whole world would be better off.

Jury Completes Work For Term

Commissioners Offer Home For TB Ward

The Lawrence county September grand jury completed its work Wednesday morning with an inspection of the county properties and members were discharged from further service shortly before noon.

The final list of returns of bills of indictment considered saw four Not a True Bill reports, and the balance True Bills. The list follows.

True Bills. William Cook, aggravated assault and battery. Zearl Fowler, two morals charges. James Moore, arson. Elsie Jean Avery, neglect of a minor child. Walter Horton, three charge of burglary.

Lee Lane and James Lane, robbery. Eddie Warden, murder, manslaughter, wantonly and playfully pointing firearms, Frank Ludwiczak, numbers. Guido Filigenzi, resisting an officer. Richard McCarter, sale of beer and liquor illegally. George Konezovich, selling beer and liquor illegally. Joseph C. Wirtz, driving while intoxicated. Leroy McClendon, driving while intoxicated.

Not a true bill was returned in each of the following cases.

L. R. Tipton, obtaining money by false pretenses. Betty Moore, larceny. Everett Tindall, malicious mischief. John P. James, aggravated assault and battery.

TO GIVE FARM HOUSE

In order to provide an isolation ward for tubercular patients, the county commissioners are prepared to offer to the Anti-Tuberculosis League, the farm house located on the property of the county on the Ellwood City road.

The home would be used as an isolation ward during the time patients are waiting to be admitted to a state hospital.

COURT REVERSES JURY

In an order handed down on Wednesday the court reverses a jury finding and orders a verdict for the defendant. The case is that of Walter H. Smith and Emma Smith, his wife, against the Strouss-Hirshberg Company. Mrs. Smith was injured when she fell on a stairway in the store of the defendant company.

The jury trying the case awarded the plaintiffs $1600 damages. The defendant then asked for judgment N. O. V. (notwithstanding the verdict) and the court granted the petition. No evidence was offered that supported the theory of negligence upon the part of the defendant the court order reads.

SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED A GOOD BREAKFAST

School bells ring early for some children in Lawrence county. Many of them must eat breakfast as early as seven o'clock so they can be ready for the school bus. Often they are too hurried to eat a good breakfast and the result is tired, listless children, easily susceptible to colds and other diseases.

A good breakfast is a "must" for all children as well as grown-ups. Breakfast should provide one-third of the daily food needs. Children who eat a substantial breakfast have a better chance to do well in studies and games.

What is a good breakfast? Here are some patterns, from light to hearty:

Fruit, cereal or bread, beverage (milk or cocoa.)

Fruit, cereal or bread, eggs, beverage (milk or cocoa).

Fruit, egg and bacon, bread, beverage (milk or cocoa).

Summer or winter, there's always something hot in a good breakfast—a hot beverage, hot cereal, or hot protein food like eggs. Always there is food for energy. Cereals, bread, and fats are the mainstays for energy foods.

Milk is always part of a good breakfast. It is hard to get enough calcium, that important mineral for good bones and teeth, without a regular supply of milk in meals. Every child should have at least a quart of milk a day, either as beverage or in cooked dishes like custard or cream soup.

Eggs are an excellent protein food for body building and repair, and are a "must" in the day's meals. Breakfast is the best time to serve them. One egg a day or at least four a week for every person is a good plan to follow.

GRAY IS SPOTLIGHT COLOR FOR FALL

Gray, either in charcoal or lighter shades, is the color for fall. Whatever shade is used, it harmonizes perfectly with the brighter accent colors of gold, tangerine, orange, pumpkin, and the tawny reddish-browns.

Oxford gray flannel is especially good. It is shown in skirts, slacks, suits, and jumpers to be worn with blouses of the brighter colors. Tweed, wool jersey, corduroy, and velveteen appear in one gray shade or another. Grays in any of these fabrics mix perfectly with plaids.

MOTION'S COUNT IN EVERY DAY'S WORK

Every motion counts in running a home smoothly. Study your job, and learn how to do an acceptable job in the easiest and quickest way. Your kitchen is your workshop. Here are a few suggestions that will save you time and make your work easier.

First, check to see if the range, sink, tables and other work surfaces are of the correct height for you. Arrange this equipment so you take the fewest steps possible between the work areas. The food preparation center, the serving center and the range can be placed close to each other, yet allow room for working.

If you would make every motion count, follow these three rules: Store everything within easy reach; store everything where it is first used; and store articles where they can be seen easily.

Near the range, put tea and coffee with measuring spoons; put cereals to be cooked, salt and pepper and other seasonings with measuring spoons. Keep prepared cereals in the same cupboard with the serving bowls.

Why not arange a business center in the kitchen? It invites planning and taking care of the household business. A recent recipe file, a box for bills and receipts, home account book, address book, memorandum pads and pencils at your finger tips help to make a smooth running household.

BASIC FABRICS FOR FALL CLOTHES

Seven basic fabrics have arrived for the fall season. Flannels, tartans, tweeds, wool jersey, corduroy, velveteen and a new wealth of fake furs have made their appearance in yard goods and in ready-to-wear garments.

All these fabrics go well together, with velveteen and corduroy taking the lead in mix-matching with the flannels, tartans, tweeds and other materials. Chinchilles and fleeces, especially in coats and jackets, will complement tweeds, jerseys, tartans and flannels. Fake furs will combine with all the others.

These seven basic fabrics will be coordinated or contrasted in the season's favored colors of gray, navy, black and brown, and will be accented with the brighter shades of gold, tangerine, orange, pumpkin and the tawny, reddish browns. Green and purple also will be used.

Dyed to match combinations are better than ever and sharp contrasts, such as red-green, orange-black and red-black, are new.

Trimmings are in leather, braid or ribbon and with many leather buttons being used. Jackets, skirts and blouses boast a lot of braid.

WAFFLES

Several tricks for delicious and attractive waffles are: Don't get tough with waffles. Stir the dry ingredients and liquids together just to mix. Never mind if the batter is lumpy. Folding in the beaten egg whites will take care of this.

In pouring the batter, leave an inch around the edge of the iron. Try not to have an overflow; a slack fill won't make a pretty waffle either.

PROTECT STORED CORN FROM INSECTS AND RATS

Before corn harvesting season starts is the time to think about protecting the new crop of stored corn from insect and rat damage.

Get the old crop of corn cleaned out and used, or stored where it can be fumigated, if it is infested with insects.

Before refilling the corn crib, spray the floor and inside woodwork with an oil solution of water suspension containing 2½ to 5 per cent DDT at the rate of 2 gallons per 1,000 square feet of area. An ordinary garden sprayer can be used. Do this to destroy all the insects that may be harboring in the cracks and crevices of the wood.

The crib should be as near ratproof as posssible. Remove all rat harborage and shelters around the farm buildings.

FLOWER GARDEN WILL BENEFIT FROM MULCH

Mulches can benefit the flower garden in different ways. Materials, such as strawy barnyard manure, contain some nitrogen and other plant foods. Although fresh manure is objectionable because of its bad odor, weed seeds and the danger of the fumes burning the foliage, manure that is only partially decomposed is an excellent mulch. Peat moss may be either acid or alkaline, depending on its origin. It seldom contains any appreciable amount of fertilizer and certain types as the spaghum peat, decomposes slowly.

Ground corncobs are excellent mulch material. This raw organic matter stimulates the development of micro-organisms, and they utilize soil nitrogen for their growth. Liberal and frequent applications of nitrogen fertilizer are necessary when ground corncobs are used as mulch. Cobs also loosen heavy, tight soils and permit better soil drainage.

Chopped straw may be used as winter mulch and should be left on the soil. Its decomposition requires the use of nitrogenous fertilizers to prevent starvation of the plants. If the straw becomes dry it can be a fire hazard. Any material used should be applied at a depth of at least 1½ inches to two inches. Less than this does not accomplish the desired purpose and greater depths may encourage disease.

Philadelphia Zoo Exhibits Wolf Bird

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17 — (INS)—The Philadelphia Zoo came up today with a walkie-talkie "wolf-bird."

The zoo said it has received in a shipment of birds four talking mynahs which give out with shrill wolf whistles, say "hello, Joe" and "nighty-night."

The mynahs come from the Orient and are the first ever exhibited at the Philadelphia Zoo.

TIPS FOR BAKED POTATOES

When baked potatoes come out of the oven roll and squeeze them a bit to make them fluffy before cutting a criss-cross in their tops. Press down on the four corners of the criss-cross to open the potato and insert a square of butter or margarine. Sprinkle with paprika and top with a sprig of parsley.

Louis Bromfield's Farm

MALABAR FARM, Lucas, Ohio, Sept. 14.—(INS)—After he placid quietude or urban life in the big city, there is nothing like the hurly-burly of this mid-west farm to tone up the liver and lights, shake up the qui vive and strengthen the will to survive.

This sylvan paradise, carved out of the Ohio wilderness single-handed by Louis Bromfield with intrepid tractor and smoking typewriter, is, as usual, a cross between a bee-hive, New Year's Eve at Times Square and Old Home Day at the State Fair.

An accredited free-loader like myself has to scramble to survive amid the mixed melange of Malabar dogs, celebrities, disciples, tourists and sight-seers.

Probably the most notable change in the old homestead since last I holed up in the best guest room is in the Mahatma, I. E., Mr. Bromfield, himself.

Not Standing Still Either

While the soil has been growing richer by the minute, the grass taller, the roots longer, the hogs fatter, the cows more lactiferous and the guests more rambunctious, the master has not been standing still either.

He has, in a word, been wired for sound. This may come as a surprise to the multitudes personally acquainted with Mr. Bromfield, as he can be readily heard in Cleveland on a clear day. However, he has been equipped with a portable microphone through which to address the hordes of farmers and rubber-neckers who arrive by the hundreds on Fridays and Sundays to tour Malabar and listen to the Maestra explain the facts of soil conservation which have restored these once poor acres to an almost vulgar fecundity.

25,000 Tour Farm

During the summer months more than 25,000 persons have toured the farm, and now in these lush days of the late summer they still come in waves, hopeful of learning how to peg down the top soil and how to coax an extra quart of milk out of bossie.

Conducted tours are now limited to Fridays and Sundays in hope Mr. B. will get a little work down on typewriter and tractor and that the rest of Malabar's hired hands will be able to get the chores done on the other five days.

Congress has not yet gotten 'round to giving Mr. B. a medal, but even a casual visitor here can see that Mr. B's passionate attachment to the land and his preachments on conservation have attracted a vast following eager to save the soil for Uncle Sam.

Autumn Hand Prodigal

Autumn has flung a prodigal hand across these acres and the big barns bulge with the harvest. The corn is not yet in the shock nor the frost on the visiting city pumpkins. But the golden haze and hustle of September is everywhere and it is obvious that the countryside is beginning to batten down the hatches against winter.

The smell of peach preserves, apple butter and chili sauce wafts from the kitchen and a free-loader like myself has to lie low or be trapped into helping prepare the sweet corn, lima beans, the beets and the carrots for the deep freezer.

A farm, no matter how big or how fancy, is a farm after all. The men are busy with the harvest; the women with preserving and pickling everything that isn't nailed down. Everytime I look up from the lima beans, another load of baled hay is being swung into the barn.

And everytime I get to the bottom of one basket of beans, another takes its place. The barns, the deep freezers, and the shelves of the fruit cellar are already overflowing. And the master has just stamped through the house yelling that there are already 700 pounds of lard in storage and isn't it time somebody made some pies?

But it takes a heap of vittles to run Malabar. Since I arrived, we have not sat down to a meal with less than 18 persons at table, all of us eating as if it were the last meal of the condemned. You gotta eat high on the hog—and often—to get 700 pounds of lard in the cellar.

HOME WEDDING

Question: I am having a small wedding at home with relatives and close friends as guests. My fiance thinks I should send out printed invitations while I think I should write my own invitations. What do you think?

Answer: Hand-written invitations in the form of short notes will be sufficient for a small, home wedding. Engraved (never printed) invitations are not necessary for such an informal wedding.

Question: Is it proper to send birth announcements if no announcements were sent of your marriage?

Answer: Yes, it is entirely proper.

Question: My father is ill and out of town. May I have my younger brother give me away, or must an older person do this? (2) When do I remove my glove to have the ring placed on my finger? (3) Is it correct for me to have three attendants in my wedding even though it is not to be formal? (4) Is it correct for the attendants to pay for their own dresses and accessories? (5) Who pays for the best man's suit?

Answer: (1) Surely you may have your younger brother give you away, provided, of course, he is not a child. (2) At that part of the ceremony wherein the ring is about to be placed on your finger. (3) Yes. (4) Yes. (5) The best man should pay for his own suit.

Question: When should the bride leave her reception to change to travelling clothes, prior to leaving for her wedding trip?

Answer: She may leave as soon as she pleases after refreshments have been served.

Question: I am going to be married soon. Should I invite the minister and his wife to my reception? I know both of them.

Answer: It would, of course, be the courteous thing to do, especially since you know them well.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Court Of Honor Held By Scouts

See Color Pictures Of Recent Jamboree

First meeting of the fall season was conducted by Boy Scout Troop No. 4 in Mahoning school this week, with Scoutmaster Bill Weitz in charge of the meeting. A large number of the regular members were present for the session and opening ceremonies.

Scoutmaster Weitz told of the plans for the coming season with numerous interesting events planned by the scout leaders. Patrols of the troop were reorganized with tentative members line up at that time.

The troop Court of Honor was conducted by the leaders, with the following scouts receiving Second Class awards: Angelo Canale, James DoDidio, Dennis Stone, Terry Stone, Peter Tomason, Joe Luczak, Dave Muntean and Loyal Parady. A camping merit badge was presented to John Finnin.

Still color pictures were presented by the scoutmaster of the recent international Boy Scout jamboree which was conducted at Valley Forge. Scenes shown were of activities of the four members of the local troop who attended the jamboree, these being Bill Weitz, John Fannin, Loyal Parady and Bill Shaffer.

Games were played the remainder of the evening, with assistant scoutmasters, John Hall and Donald Weisbaker, assisting in the direction of activities. Ice cream cups were presented to the young scouters as they left the meeting.

Former Ward Man Dies In Accident

Mrs. Anna Orlando, 303 Wabash avenue, has been called to California due to the death of her brother, Pete Papilli, former resident of the ward, who was killed in an automobile accident late last week.

Mr. Papilli, who formerly resided at 6 North Cedar street, had left the ward a few years ago to make his home in California. He was married and was the father of four children. The accident victim's most recent visit to the ward was about two years ago.

No details of the accident were given according to the message received here.

Penna Bo Lodge Members Assemble

Mrs. Louise Ridley was in charge of the regular meeting of the Penna-Bo Lodge which was conducted Wednesday afternoon in the Green room of the Y.W.C.A. at 2 o'clock. The meeting opened the fall season when sessions will be conducted twice a month.

During the business hour plans were made for several social events, the final dates of which are to be announced at a later date.

Word was received from the grand president that the convention, which was to have been held next year, has been postponed until another four years. The convention is conducted every fourth year.

The next meting of the organization is planned for Wednesday, September 27.

Seventh Ward Notes

Holy Name and Sacred Heart societies of St. Lucy church will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church, with Mrs. Rose Leone presiding.

Mrs. E. O. Rainey, 7 Darlington avenue, who fell and broke her arm, is recovering satisfactorily at the New Castle hospital.

What Becomes Of Animals, Birds That Die In Woods?

One of the questions asked by many persons is: What becomes of the animals and birds that die in the woods?

There are big and little scavengers that work in the Outdoors keeping the woods clear of dead wild life.

Beetles are determined members of the insect world and because their body is protected by a hard shell they have prospered and increased everywhere. All the Beetles are not bad. Beetles like the Dung Beetle and the Scavanger Beetle perform useful service by feeding on dead animals. These Beetles are gifted with a power of scent and always are on the job as soon as they are needed. By working night and day they soon make the small dead wild life disappear.

Another scavanger of the woods is the Bot Fly, always present when tragedy hits wild life. Some of the members of the Bot Fly family such as the Horse Bot Fly, which lays its eggs on the long hair on horse's legs during the summer months, are very troublesome. When the eggs hatch the larvae causes the horse much discomfort.

The Opossum is one of the most dangerous of predators, although to look at it it seems to be a harmless creature. It is a destroyer of all living small wild life and when it can not get fresh meat it scours the woods for the dead. When its keen nose catches the scent it will travel over unbelievable barriers to reach it.

JUST FOUND OUT

UNION, S. C.—The local draft board received this note from a registrant:

"This is to let you know that I am married and have one child. Would have notified you sooner but hadn't noticed it until they started to drafting.

Dogs may contract tuberculosis but they are not considered a common source of transmission.

How Long Does CHANGE OF LIFE Last?

President Walks Into Dinner Meeting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Some 1,500 postal supervisors and their wives, rained out of sightseeing activities during their convention in Washington, last night saw one of the capital's leading tourist attractions—President Truman.

The president, accompanied by Postmaster General Donaldson, walked unannounced in to the dinned of the National Association of Postal Supervisors.

Mr. Truman told them he understood rain had kept them from seeing "all the sights". Then he added:

"I thought maybe there was one sight you would like to see."

Fire School Will End Friday Night

Charles Porter, fire marshall of Beaver County, will address the members of the Lawrence County Volunteer Firemen's Association at their session this evening at Neshannock Township fire hall. His subject will be "Ventilation."

Harry Culliford, Red Cross First Aid instructor, will be on the program Friday evening, speaking on "Safety."

The attendance has not been up to expectations, it is stated, probably due to weather conditions, but it is expected that there will be a good attendance at the two concluding meetings.

Plan Auxiliary For Henry Home

The committee to form an auxiliary for the Margaret Henry Home met Wednesday evening at the home of the president of the committee, Mrs. Richard Marquis, Wilmington road. Joe Rick was present to represent the board of the Margaret Henry Home.

Mrs. Travis French, vice-president, brought forth the plans that have been made to form the auxiliary. The new organization would help to provide all necessary things that may be needed at the home. It hopes to work with the local organizations and clubs that have been friendly with the home in the past years.

All women of New Castle are urged to attend the public meeting at the Eagles home on Monday, September 18, at 9 p. m. Various clubs will have representatives at the meeting, and further plans will be discussed for the formation of the auxiliary. Mrs. Marquis will preside at the meeting.

Farm Roundup

Potatoes Must Be Bought Up

Government May Have To Purchase 100 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The government may have to buy as many as 100 million bushels of this year's potato crop to hold up farmers' prices.

Agricultural department officials say that the fifth biggest potato crop in hisotry is on its way. They are looking ahead to the time the government will have to buy spuds on a grander scale than was necessary in 1949.

The latest government survey of crops showed that farmers will harvest about 420 million bushels of potatoes. The 1949 harvest yielded only 402 million bushels.

The U. S. consumed about 325 million bushels of potatoes last year. If consumption is about the same this year, there will be almost 100 million bushels that will have to stay on the farm or put to other non-eating uses sponsored by the government.

But officials are not much worried, they say, about what kind of a big ruckus will be raised when the government steps in to buy about 25 per cent of this year's crop. The ruckus will be small, if any at all, compared to what went during last spring's buying spree.

They believe that there will be too much other business going on—what with the nation gearing itself more and more to wartime conditions. They say there will be too much going on for anybody to take time out to raise much of a to-do about government potato buying.

And besides, they point out, elections will be over by the time heavy buying is in vogue and government support programs no longer will be under political fire.

The agriculture department predicts the California almond crop will be under last year's large crop, but considerabiy more than the average.

It estimates the crop at 37,200 tons compared with last year's 43,300 tons and the average of 23,310 tons. Harvest was reported under way in late August with crops turning out heavy in some orchards and very light in others as the result of spring frost injury.

California's walnut crop is estimated at 60,000 tons compared with 80,200 tons in 1949 and the average of 59,590 tons. Production prospects have been reduced because of extremely hot weather.

The interior department says that timber cut from western government-administered lands was valued at 10½ million dollars during the year ended June 30, 1950. That is 356,982 more than the previous year.

The one billion, 116 million board feet cut during the past fiscal year had an average value of $9.46 a thousand board feet. The prvious year the average was $8.84.

Full-Scale Probe Of Rackets Ordered In Eastern Counties

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(INS)—A special federal grand jury was ordered Wednesday to begin a full-scale probe of gambling, white slave, bootlegging and other "rackets" in 10 eastern Pennsylvania counties.

The jurors were called into session beginning tomorrow to hear evidence offered by Max H. Goldschein, ace "racket-buster" for the U. S. Department of Justice.

Goldschein and his associate probers have been investigating Philadelphia area rackets for the past several weeks.

The Justice Department prosecutor refused to disclose any details of the racket investigation other than to say "it is to see if any of the racketeers have overstepped the line and violated federal laws in their machinations."

If only state and local laws are involved, he explained, federal authorities will not interfere with prosecution by the state and local officials concerned.

The counties to be included are Philadelphia, Berks, Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Lehigh, Montgomery, Lancaster, Northampton and Schuylkill.

The probe is expected to investigate every conceivable federal offense—from income tax evasion and smuggling to the narcotics and slot machine rackets.

Turnpike Opening May Be Delayed

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported today the scheduled opening of the Super-Highway's eastern extension October 1 might be delayed if bad weather continues.

"We need at least 15 working days to do the job," said Chairman Thomas J. Evans. "If we can stop the rain we can do it."

Evans said that the commission and contractors are striving to meet the opening deadline and that quick-laying cement will be used if necessary to speed the work.

"Rain stopped us from doing much of anything last week," he said, "and we've been able to do nothing this week."

I.C.C. Hears Testimony In Wreck Of Troop Train

By WILLIAM FLANNERY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—The Spirit of St. Louis roared through a caution signal at more than 70 miles per hour only moments before crashing into the rear end of a stalled troop train near Coshocton, O., last Monday.

This was disclosed yesterday at a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Pittsburgh into the collision that claimed the lives of 33 Pennsylvania's 28th Division of the National Guard.

At Excessive Speed

B. W. Johnson, division road foreman of engines for the Pennsylvania railroad, testified that a speed recording tape taken from the engine of the St. Louis flyer showed the train was traveling at excessive speed at the time of the collision.

E. W. E. Eller, the 68-year-old engineer of the St. Louis, testified earlier that he had gone through the signal at about 50 miles per hour. However, the tape showed that the train was still speeding at between 50 and 65 miles per hour at the moment of impact.

The engineer freely admitted that he was speeding and that he violated operating proceedure in not reducing his speed to 30 miles per hour after passing the warning signal.

The speed of the train made it impossible for him to stop in time after he saw the rear end of the stalled troop train as the Spirit of St. Louis sped through another signal to "stop and proceed" just 185 feet behind the stopped troop train.

About 70 Miles Per Hour

"The tape indicates there was a gradual increase of speed after the train left Uhrichsville, east of the crash," Johnston said. "It shows that the train was running at about 70 miles per hour when it reached the approach signal, (three miles east of the stalled troop train), and it shows a speed of a little more than 70 miles an hour for a distance of two-and-a-half miles past the approach signal."

Johnson explained that the engineer who brought the train into Pittsburgh had told Eller the recorder was running about seven or eight miles per hour fast.

The railroad was ordered to test the apparatus by ICC member W. J. Patterson, who conducted the investigation.

Admitting that he did not reduce his speed enough when he saw the caution signal and that he failed to stop at the stop and proceed signal Eller was asked by commissioner Patterson what happened then. He replied without emotion:

"Everybody knows."

Called All Signals

His fireman, E. J. Kearns, testified that he had called all signals to Eller, as well as the signals of the flagman of the stalled troop train.

The troop train flagman, W. G. Lancaster, 34, declared that his frantic signals with a red-and-white lantern and a lighted fuse were not acknowledged.

He said he stood between the rails in the path of the onrushing train until the last possible moment. Then he threw a lighted fuse up in front of the engine windshield and leaped over the embankment to safety.

As he came back up over the embankment, Lancaster said he observed that the stop and proceed signal was still in place. He said the last car of the 17-car flyer stood still at about where he leaped over the embankment.

He recalled that D. H. Smith, flagman of the St. Louis train, was stepping down off the rear car.

"We must have hit something," Lancaster quoted Smith.

"You sure did, fellow, you hit a troop train," Lancaster said he replied.

Other witnesses established that brakes and signal equipment, of the St. Louis express, as well as all wayside signals, were in proper working order.

Commissioner Patterson said the testimony will be studied and a public report made later. He added that "punitive action" will be taken if it is established that any ICC regulations were violated.

Speedy Action On Gen. Marshall Plan Expected In Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—The Senate is expected to pass and send to the House today legislation permitting appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall as Defense Secretary.

Senate armed services Chairman Rydings (D) Md., said he will ask Senate action today if possible on a bill to exempt Gen. Marshall from the ban on naming a military man to the defense post.

President Truman is awaiting passage of the bill so he can name Marshall to succeed the ousted secretary Louis Johnson.

City Teachers Are Assigned

Mahoning School Teacher Resigns

Mrs. Florence Rosser Marshall, a teacher in the Mahoning school resigned Wednesday night at the meeting of the New Castle School Board due to change of residence. The resignation was accepted.

Marguerite C. Fiscus was transferred from North street to Oak street school, Betty Hovis from Oak street to Rose avenue, and Eugene Kirker from senior high to Washington junior high. William J. Wallace, a teacher in Franklin was transferred to the principalship of Thaddeus Stevens and West Side schools a position to which he was elected a month ago.

Teachers Assigned

Teachers elected for 1950-51 were assigned as follows. Jeanne G. Lews to Highland; Lillian Smock to McGill; Pauline Kivisto to Thaddeus Stevens; Willis H. Bates to Rose avenue; Jean Weber to Mahoning; Alfred N. Beavon to Washington junior; Helen S. Finish, Mary Patricia Preston and Robert Beynon to Franklin. Ernest E. Hill, Willard Keen, John Milanovich and Max R. Shope to senior high school.

Miss Ingeborg Hallgren of Washington junior high school was granted a sabbatical leave for the first semester due to health.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton presented a report showing that the New Castle public schools stand 6th from the top in second class school districts in Pennsylvania in the matter of teachers holding college certificates. In 1949-50 the percentage here was 74.9 per cent. In 1920-21 the percentage was only 16.3 per cent. Hazelton is high with 87.8 per cent, Allentown second with 79.5 per cent, Lancaster, 78.5 per cent, Lower Merion 78.4 per cent, Reading 75.7 and then New Castle with 74.9 per cent.

Boy Recovers After Swallowing Needle At Home

Ronald Chirumbolo, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chirumbolo, 110 South Jefferson street, who swallowed a needle Monday afternoon, has been discharged from the Jameson Memorial hospital. The needle worked out of his body of its own accord.

The little chap was given a diet of solid foodstuffs by hospital attaches. Apparently the boy suffered no pain.

While his mother was upstairs feeding a younger sister, she heard Ronald scream. She rushed downstairs and asked him what was wrong and he replied that he had swallowed a needle, which she had left lying on a table, preparatory to doing some sewing.

The little fellow picked up the needle, believing he was to help her sew and put it in his mouth and he swallowed it.

Roald Amundsen of Norway, who discovered the South Pole, did so on Dec. 14, 1911.

Six Months Old Girl Is Object Of Kidnap Aalarm

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 14—(INS)—The possibility of foul play was considered today by police searching for six months old Nancy Goodell of Paterson, N. J., object of a kidnap alarm since Tuesday.

After more than 25 police scoured cellars, roofs and yards for 15 hours Detective Sgt. Frank Moore declared:

"We've a real mystery on our hands.

"It looks like a kidnaping, but we are not ruling out the possibility of foul play."

Reports of neighbors prompted a police alarm for a squat woman "with big, piano-type legs" and a companion described as "a tall, thin, gray-haired woman."

Neighbors told of seeing the women around little Nancy's carriage about the time the infant disappeared from in front of her home early Tuesday.

For 12 hours police questioned Nancy's parents, Fred Goodell, 22, and his wife, Marie, 18. They also interrogated his father, Fred, Sr., who lives across the street.

The younger Goodell said the infant disappeared from her carriage while he left her unattended to visit his parent. The mother was at work in a coat factory.

Before World War II, 87 countries were exchanging fingerprints and other criminal data with the FBI.

American Girl To Spend Christmas In Cairo, Egypt

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Sixteen-year-old Mimi Medart, the shapely daughter of a wealthy St. Louis manufacturer reported to have taken the fancy of King Farouk, said today she has accepted an invitation from the romantic monarch to spend Christmas in Egypt.

Miss Medart was asked about the reported invitation on her arrival in London from Paris and said:

"Of course I'm going. Any girl would. He kissed my hand and sent me flowers. It was all very thrilling. I think he is enchanting."

Mimi's mother, who came with her from Paris, said she is "very pleased with the whole thing." She said she will go to Cairo with her daughter.

Miss Medart, who said she met Farouk at Deauville, came to England to study languages "and ride horseback."

MADRID, Sept. 14—(INS)—King Farouk of Egypt left Madrid for France today after spending a small fortune on jewels and works of art.

Reports say he will visit Generalissimo Francisco Franco on his way back to Egypt next month.

HARRISON-DENNISON QUIET CEREMONY

Miss Jacqueline Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harrison, 21½ North Mill street, was united in marriage to Charles E. Dennison, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

Wedding vows were exchanged on September 9 at 7 p.m., with H. M. Reynolds performing the ceremony.

The bride was attractively attired in an aqua satin dress, with black accessories. Rhinestone earrings were gifts of the groom, and her shoulder corsage consisted of red roses.

Miss Camella DeLorenzo, as maid of honor, wore a champagne lace dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Edward J. Moore served the groom as best man.

A wedding reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. A three-tier cake centered the table, with refreshments served by Mrs. Harrison, Miss Georgia Hiedish, Mrs. Juanita Alex, and Mrs. Irene Pitzer.

The young couple departed for a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, and will reside for the present at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Dennison, a graduate of the local high school, is employed as a bookkeeper at the Commercial Credit corporation. Mr. Dennison, a graduate of the New Castle Jewelry school, is affiliated with Berman's Jewelry store of Parkersburg, W. Va., where the couple will make their home in the near future.

JEWISH COUNCIL TO MEET TUESDAY

Mrs. Myron Milbourer, president of the New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women will preside at the first open meeting of the fall season, Tuesday evening, September 19, at 8:15 o'clock, at Temple Israel.

This meeting of council's work is devoted in service to foreign born and Mrs. Stanley Kraus will preside.

She will introduce Stanley Engle, of the Jewish Community Center in Youngstown, O., and will speak on the subject, "Displaced Persons."

Council's work for foreign born in New Castle is extensive through its settlement program. English, Americanization and Orientation classes are held. There are three displaced families in New Castle, and Mrs. Kraus and her committee have been working hard to acclimatize these families to their new surroundings.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14.—John Huston, the academy award winning director, is the answer to the prayers of Hollywood's legion of extras these days.

Huston, hard at it putting "Red Badge of Courage" before the cameras, it putting out daily calls for more and more male extras to portray Union and Confederate soldiers in the big battle scenes in the Civil war classic.

The film is being shot on Huston's own Keystone ranch near Calabasas. The hills are covered with cannon, the wreckage of wagons and other vehicles and teem with long lines of the Blue and Gray.

The Easy Way

The "Badge picture" is being shot at Chico, Cal., and the Huston ranch site because those locations were "more like the real thing than the actual battlefields in Virginia and other places in the south".

A "leap-frog" method is being used to finish the epic in its alloted 32 days. That is, Huston visualizes the entire action of the picture in photograph and on 16 mm. film. He has unit directors rehearse the hundreds of extras and principals Audie Murphy and Bill Mauldin before the cameras actually roll. Then Huston steps in, shoots the scene with hardly a retake necessary.

The makeup men work overtime on this film, expected to be one of Hollywood's biggest for the 1951 season. For the march of the wounded scene the makeup men hustle around ripping the clothes of the soldiers and using sandpaper to give the uniforms the required tattered and worn effect. Another makeup expert, with an air gun squirts "blood" on the $17-a-day extras.

Audie's Best Role

Audie Murphy, as the youth in "Red Badge", says that the role is the best he has ever had. He claims that he is just as much at home in his Civil war uniform as he was in World War II khaki.

Mauldin, who won fame in the last war with his cartoons of Willie and Joe in his "Up Front" cartoons, is equally at home in Civil war outfit. It is Mauldin's second screen performance. He was in "Teresha", a soon-to-be-released picture about GI's in Italy.

The soldier-extras and the two actors at the "Red Badge" location talked of war—but not the Civil war. The talk was of the current Korean conflict and what the future might hold for them.

Fine Performance

Murphy, America's most decorated soldier of World War II is a member of the Texas National Guard. He hopes to become a member of a combat unit in the far east.

Mauldin, a GI from start to finish in the last war, did not expect to be drafted again. He said that if Uncle Sam wanted him, "they know where to get me".

Huston says that both men are great in "Red Badge" what with their being right at home in their roles. He is keeping his fingers crossed that the companys' record of no casualties so far will be kept for the duration of the film's big battle scenes.

Douthett Assigned To Submarine Duty

David Karl Douthett, yoeman first class, USN, husband of Mrs. Helen J. Douthett of 705 Wayne avenue, Ellwood City, has been assigned duty aboard the submarine USS Ronquil at San Francisco, Calif.

Before entering the navy in December, 1941, Douthett worked as a lab assistant for the National Tube Co.

UNEXPECTED VISITOR IN CHURCH LAWN

—Acme Telephoto

CALISTOGA, CALIF.—An expected visitor landed on the church lawn in Calistoga. A private plane with two passengers aboard crashed into the side of the church, and hence on to the lawn. Both passengers were taken to the local hospital, and were considered out of danger. A bulldozer pulls the plane off the church property.

In The Open

The countryside is once again on the gold standard. Roadsides and fencerows and wild pastures on every hand are decked in cloth-of-gold. The royal flower of September—the glowing goldenrod—has sent probing patrols through the thickets, to mark out proper pathways for the full dress invasion which will soon burst in flaring yellow flame against the token holding action of the retreating summer. One last spree of riotous color, and the floral race will have run its course for another year.

The goldenrod is certainly not popular with those unfortunates who vote the hay fever ticket, but it has long been a good friend to happier folk who do not indulge in such lachrymose luxury. With the sunflowers and other yellow hued blossoms which brighten September waysides the goldenrod is a devout sun worshiper. These golden blooms have caught the sun in their heart through all the summer and at their flowering time save up and rehearse the sunshine of the year.

Flaming Yellow Torches

The countryman gathers an armful of the flaming yellow torches and crams them in a tall container on the corner of his porch. Here they smoulder in sullen beauty for an hour or two, but they soon assume the drab garb of death. Left unharmed by the roadside these tall torches will light the traveler safely through the dust-choked country byways.

There is never a scarcity of goldenrod. Like the hollyhock and the moss rose and the almost forgotten four o'clock goldenrod is the common folks' flower. As sure as September this hardy perennial works its way through the fields and kindles its wonderment of color to a whole continent's delight.

My sable friends, the crows, seem to have weathered the vicissitudes of the summer rather successfully. Despite the continual barrage of gunfire poured at them by nimrods equipped with crow calls and stuffed owls, they were able to muster a whole battalion on the heights behind our house the other day. Amid a gladsome clamor and many aerial sorties they renewed old acquaintance and laid plans for their winter encampments.

One Long Holiday

Now that family cares are over and the youngsters have reached an age of discretion, life for old Corvus becomes one long holiday. The shorn meadows and close-cropped pastures swarm with grasshoppers. Field and forest offer abundant fruits. He saunters carelessly on sagging wing from chosen field to chosen wood and at nightfall takes his ease in some carefully selected rookery, surrounded by his fellows.

Each year we can count on playing host to this September gathering of the tribes. At the first signal, as suddenly and as mysteriously as the merry men appeared at the winding of Robin Hood's horn, the black clansmen rally from every quarter of the greenwood, to sit in high council and discuss at vociferous length all proposals put forth for the good of the order.

I made a try for a basket of elderberries during the weekend only to find that I was a week or so late. I found some great blue lobelia standing in tall spires of brilliant blue on a soggy hillside and walked a shady wooded edging which was hip-high in drifts of white snakeroot. The elderberries had gone to join their fathers, either via hungry birds or just plain old age. My basket rode home empty.

Young Raccoon Entertains

A young raccoon entertained us for a time one recent moonless evening. We were homeward bound from the theatre and had just reached the garage drive when the car lights picked out the ring-tailed youngster right in the middle of the roadway. He was in no hurry and his curiosity as to the bright lights kept him on stage for quite a while.

A passing car nearly clipped that bushy tail but he kept on posing, making the most of his appearance in the spotlight. Now and again he made an alarmed half-break for the shadows but his coon curiosity turned him again to face those blazing lights. He ambled along flat-footed, like the plantigrade creature he is.

Finally he eased himself over the bank and into our front yard. The floodlight revealed his doings as he poked about in typical coon fashion. Anything that is none of his business interests the raccoon and this fellow was no exception. He thoroughly investigated the upper lawn, then checked up on the garage drive, and when we saw him last he was heading across the side yard to see how the young apple trees were doing.

Would Take Two Years To Properly Fortify Alaska

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—Alaskan Gov. Ernest Gruening warned Congress Wednesday that it would require two years to build up Alaska's defenses to meet a possible Soviet invasion from Siberia.

Gruening, testifying before the Senate Interior Committee, blamed Congress for failure to provide sufficent funds speedily enough to strengthen the territory's defenses.

The governor said Alaska needs a radar screen to warn of any invasion from Siberia and also must have housing for the troops to meet such an attack.

Gruening appeared before the committee in answer to charges by Sen. Choeppel (R) Kans., that a Communist intrigue is involved in the campaign for Alaskan statehood.

The governor bitterly attacked the charges and said that Alaska is an "Achilles heel not because of disloyalty but because it has never been adequately defended and is not adequately defended now."

Bodies Of Soldiers Returned Today To Wilkes-Barre Area

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 14—(INS)—The 109th Field Artillery Battalion is ready to receive its dead today.

The streets of Wilkes-Barre and many surrounding towns are draped in mourning.

The bodies of the battalion's 33 men killed in a troop train wreck near Coshocton, O., Monday are scheduled to arrive at Wilkes-Barre at 1:20 p.m.

They were enroute to Camp Atterbury, Ind., for duty with Pennsylvania's famed 28th Division when a speeding passenger train smashed into the stalled troop carrier.

An honor guard was assigned to the train carrying the victims to their last resting places in family plots in the Wilkes-Barre area.

The train's route touched Pittsburgh, Altoona, Lock Haven and Sunbury.

Six 105 mm. Howitzers of the 967th Field Artillery will fire a formal military salute when the train completes its run.

One thousand soldiers will be in the procession in which weapons carriers will carry the bodies of the victims to the West Side armory in Kingston. Funeral services will follow.

State Relief Board Raises Allowances

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The State Relief Board today raised food and shelter-maintenance payments to help offset the increased cost of living for several sundred thousand indigent Pennsylvanians.

A dollar-per-person a month increase in food allotments and a 10 per cent jump in shelter-maintenance grants won board approval.

The food bill will jump $200,000 a month under the new schedule while shelter-maintenance costs will go up $15,000, according to the board.

The increase will be paid entirely with state funds.

Deputy Secretary Robert P. Wray said the increase will be reflected no later than in checks written for the last half of October.

Senate Leader Hopes To Close Business Saturday Night

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., said after a parley of Senate leaders today that "we are still looking forward to closing business here Saturday night—for a while at least."

But Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., a member of the "informal" House-Senate conference on the four and one-half billion dollar tax bill, declared that "there's not a chance in the world" that the House and Senate can iron out its differences in that time.

Lucas announced that all Democratic Senators will meet Saturday morning for a final decision on whether Congress will take short recesses or a final adjournment, subject only to recall by the president.

Reportedly snagging a decision to adjourn Saturday night is the question on whether and how the president may veto the anti-Communist bill. Its advocates want to circumvent possibility of a pocket veto.

SIGNS NOT BELIEVED

NEW ALBANY, Ind.—Ferd Oster, county road superintendent, was annoyed. It was bad enough for people to dump trash along the highway, he complained, but it was even worse when they tore up his "no dumping" signs and threw them down with the trash.

Sir Isaac Newton proposed a steam jet-propelled vehicle in the 17th century.

The month of July was called Quintilis Julius by the Romans, in memory of Julius Caesar.

SEARS NEW SERVICE DEPARTMENT

Sears, Roebuck and Company open their new service department today. Located on Cochran Alley adjacent to the rear of Sears main store, it will give greater accommodations, quicker service, and eliminate waiting on many automobile accessories. Labor Government To Push Steel Nationalization

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The British Labor government announced plans today to proceed with nationalization of the iron and steel industry on January 1 or soon after, and the possibility of a new major political crisis arose.

Immediately after Prime Minister Attlee announced the plans in the House of Commons, Conservative Leader Winston Churchill said that the opposition will come forward with an outright challenge—meaning a motion of non-confidence.

The wartime prime minister charged that Attlee had committed a "wanton partisan act" at a time of national and international crisis.

Attlee steadfastly refused to alter his decision. Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison said the Laborites will welcome a vote.

Political observers predict an extremely close vote with the possibility of a government defeat after the issue is debated next Tuesday. The Laborites have an overall majority of only seven votes.

MANUAL IS READY

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14—(INS)—Copies of the 89th edition of the Pennsylvania Manual, an 1138-page handbook on the Commonwealth's Government and Legislature, have been received at the state capitol.

Copies soon will be distributed to state government officers, legislators and various agencies.

The manual, issued every two years, is an offshoot of Thomas Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice published in 1801. In 1846, the legislature gave official sanction to the book which became Smull's legislative handbook until the commonwealth acquired the copyright in 1922.

Red Regimes Of East Europe Starting Purge

By MARVIN STONE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

VIENNA, Sept. 14—(INS)—The Communist regimes of East Europe are reported to be purging their populations of 350,000 persons—"trouble-makers and alien minorities"—In a wave of mass deportations.

Reports compiled in Vienna said the campaign, apparently on direct orders from Moscow, has yet to reach its peak.

The heaviest blow is being struck in Bulgaria were the Sofia Government is preparing to throw out 250,000 members of the Turkish minority within three months.

The quarter of a million Turks are those who settled in Bulgaria during the days of the Ottoman empire and kept their Turkish citizenship after Bulgaria became an independent nation.

Bulgaria demanded that Turkey take them back under the 1925 Bulgaro-Turkish emigration treaty.

Sources in Vienna said the Communist motives were threefold:

1. Politically, large numbers of Communists will be able to infiltrate into strategic Turkey, which has agreed to accept them.

2. Militarily, the move will clear southern Bulgaria, facing the Greek border, of a "foreign element" and make it a "reliable area."

3. Economically, the great influx of homeless Turks will represent a serious burden for the Ankara Government.

Elsewhere in the satellite states, the deportations and internments by the Communists are aimed at "politically unreliable" elements of minority groups.

Twenty Brazilian Army Men Killed In Plane Crashes

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Twenty Brazilian Army men were killed Wednesday in the crash of two military transport planes within a few hours.

The first crash, in which 13 were killed, occurred near Fortaleza in northeastern Brazil. The men were returning home from national olympic games at Recife.

The second accident, in which seven men were killed, took place just across the bay from Rio de Janeiro.

Senate Committee Orders Contempt Charges Vs. Three

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(INS)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee on Wednesday ordered contempt of Congress proceedings against Earl Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip Jaffe.

The three men refused to answer questions when they appeared as witnesses in the Senate investigation of alleged Communism in the State Department.

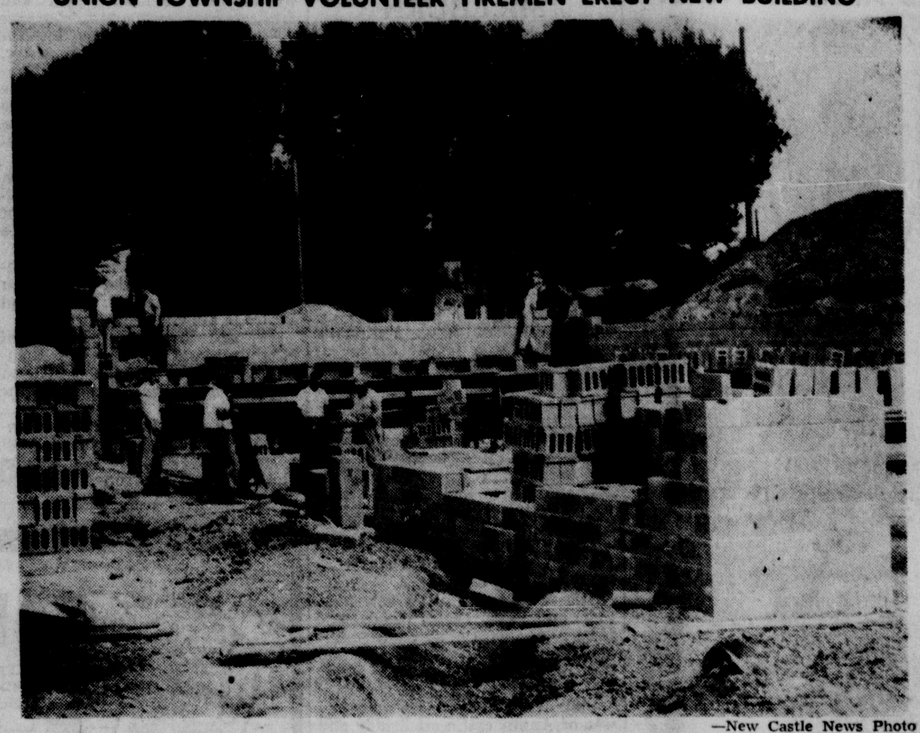

The action against Browder, Field and Jaffe must be approved on the Senate floor before the Justice Department can seek an indictment of the trio.

Jaffe was editor of Amerasia magazine in whose offices federal investigators discovered stacks of secret government documents in 1945.

Field, a New York millionaire, was once an official of the allegedly Pro-Communist Institute of Pacific Relations and has been identified with other so-called fellow traveler groups.

UNION TOWNSHIP VOLUNTEER FIREMEN ERECT NEW BUILDING

"Do It Yourself", could well be the slogan of the Union Township Volunteer Fire department. When a campaign for funds to build a new fire house failed to yield enough money to hire a contractor to erect the building, the men decided to do the job themselves.

An idea of the size of the undertaking can be gathered from the picture above. The building was designed by A. T. Eckles so that it could be erected in two parts. It will be a two story building. The first story and temporary roof will be finished this year and put into immediate use.

It is hoped that the roof can be raised and the second story completed next year. The structure will be 72 feet long and 40 deep. It will have three entrances and a clearance of 12 feet inside. It will be complete with locker rooms for the firemen and two rest rooms. The finished structure will be a tribute to the tenacity of men with determination.

DRIVER EXONERATED

PITTSBURGH, Sept 14.—(INS)—A coroner's jury on Wednesday exonerated an Ohio truck driver in the death of two Pittsburgh men killed in a head-on crash on Route 22 near Pittsburgh July 30.

Irwin William Smith, 24, of New Philadelphia, was cleared of blame in the collision, which claimed the lives of Nathan Payman, 37, and Nathaniel Glover, 29.

A contract made with a lunatic is void.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(INS)—For the first time in the history of fashion, an American designer will be "subsidized" in his style creating next Fall:

Charles James, exclusive designer of clothes for the majority of "best-dressed women of America' 'in the last 10 years, has signed a contract to style wardrobes for mass production in the $60 to $90 price range.

James, a long-time crusader for Americans in the fashion field, will make models for Ohrbach's a retail store with branches in New York, Newark, N. J., and Los Angeles.

Designer James' gowns usally sell for $525 to $950.

The New York creator has long expressed the opinion that if Paris designers were not subsidized by the French Government, they couldn't out-play American stylists.

LOSES 21 LBS. WITH ERMOTAF READING MAN FEELS BETTER

"I weighed 229 lbs. Now I weigh 208 lbs. and feel much better. I don't feel bloated any more and eat 3 meals a day just as I did before taking Ermotaf. My waist line went down 2 inches and I am going to keep on taking Ermotaf." So writes Mr. Earl Bucks of 1112 N. 11th St.

Imagine! Eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective home recipe. Buy a bottle of Ermotaf Concentrate from your druggist and pour the contents into a pint bottle, then add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. It's that simple. No diets to complicate your meal planning—no expensive vitamins to fortify your system while going hungry—you can eat normally. If the first bottle of safe inexpensive Ermotaf doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat, just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Get Ermotaf at your druggist today.

WHAT! Only a quart of oil? The Roxbilts don't scrimp young man—put in 5 gallons!

Combat Divisions Can Be Turned Out In Less Time

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Army authorities said that they now can turn out new combat divisions in little more than six months, as compared to a year required during World War II.

The army will expand from ten to at least 18 and possibly as many as 30 front-line divisions in a drive to meet the needs of the Korean war and additional defenses in Europe.

During World War II, the training period for new divisions was 42 weeks, but an additional two months was needed for test exercises. The army considered that a year was the minimum for putting a fresh division into action.

Schedule Is 26 Weeks

The new training schedule for an 18,000-man division is 26 weeks with tests cut to two weeks—for a total of 28 weeks.

This schedule applies regardless of whether the division is a National Guard unit called to active duty and "beefed up" with draftees, or whether it is built from scratch by combining experienced soldiers and recruits.

The guard divisions are at little more than half strength. Each requires about 9,000 draftees or other recruits who must train from the ground up before the division is ready for combat.

In building divisions from scratch, a minimum of 3,000 experienced soldiers are placed with 15,000 recruits to go through the same phases of psychological, physical and technical training.

An army training expert said the new 26-week schedule leaves something to be desired from the standpoint of a modern European war, but it believed satisfactory for the Korean crisis and an expanded occupation program.

Not As Much Training

The expert said the shortened schedule does not provide as much training in co-ordination with the air force and with tanks and artillery as would be needed if the divisions were going up against a major land and air power.

The official said:

"If we were fighting a war similar to the last one, we would probably still want the 42 weeks to train a division. But for the present emergency, the new program is satisfactory.

"We are cramming more things together and working harder. Everybody, of course, hopes that the Korean war will be over within a year."

Short-cuts in the program include instruction in marching and drilling while the troops are moving from one classroom to another, and the teaching of two or more subjects in the same class.

Instruction in marksmanship is cut from 80 to 60 hours, and map-reading from 16 to 8 hours.

Total individual instructoin remains the same—14 weeks—because many of recruits now sought will be sent directly to Korea as replacements instead of training with units at home.

NAIL WEAPON

LOS ANGELES—What has long been suspected is now a legal fact. Mary Grider of Los Angeles was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon—her fingernails. The complaint was filed by the man whose face she scratched.

Aching corns forecast the weather? Could be! Changes in air pressure often disturb sensitive parts of the body.

RELAXATION COMES AFTER TENSION

A BEACH near Mobile, Ala., affords a welcome opportunity to relax for 21-year-old Yolande Betbeze after the high tension of Atlantic City where she annexed the "Miss America" crown. The Alabama beauty won't have much time for such relaxation before embarking on the multitude of engagements she faces. (International)

LEARNING COSTS MORE

MIDDLEBURY, Vt.—Records show that one George Hyde, during his junior year at Midlleburg college in 1829, spent only $37.82, including $20 tuition. Today it costs more than $1000 to spend a year at the school.

MILLBURN

The Ladies Friendship Club will hold the September meeting at the grange hall on Thursday afternoon, Septmeber 21, with Miss Clara Metzger, hostess chairman. Mrs. J. R. Patterson, Mrs. Byron Blake and Mrs. Jessie Hutzler attended the September meeting of White Chapel W.S.C.S. at the home of Mrs. Howard Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hartt returned the last of the week from a visit with their son, James and family in Galena Park, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lukacs of Pittsburgh and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lukacs of Mercer called on their grandparents, during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Patterson enjoyed a D.M.C. club wiener roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blake. The Pattersons, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Amos Weaver, visited Mr. Weaver's sister, Mrs. Charles Smith and husband in South Bethlehem, Jefferson county, during the week end.

Mrs. R. E. Hume and niece, Mrs. Ben Foust, Mrs. William Francis, C. A. Blumenshine and H. A. Blumenshine were week end callers in the Harvey Williams home.

Miss Thelma Larson of Detroit was a week end guest in the R. E. Hume home. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. English of Grove City called on Mr. and Mrs. Hume Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cummings and children visited their daughter, Mrs. William Critchlow, in Harrisville Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Bougher has returned home from an eastern trip in the New England states.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Latshaw were Todd Latshaw of Crafton, Mrs. Laura Eno of Honesdale and Mr. and Mrs. Roe Gotshall and Mrs. Roy Burnsides of Warren, Pa.

ASA Views Enlisting Men In Signal Corps

The Army Security Agency has attached a special Army Security representative to the US Army and US Air Force recruiting main station, old Post Office building, Pittsburgh, who will interview qualified individuals with a view to enlisting them in the ASA.

Men with or without prior military service are eligible to apply and the term of enlistment will be for three, four, five or six years, and assignment will be in the Signal Corps.

BREATH-LESS

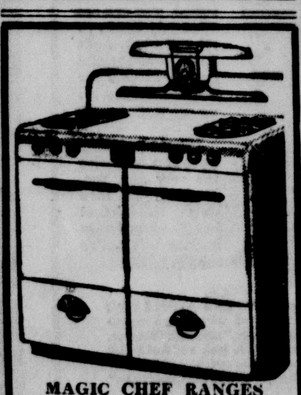

LONDON — (INS) — Teen-ager Peter Olds did not seem to breathe for 10 minutes after he was pulled unconscious from the bottom of a swimming pool. Two attendants gave artificial respiration. Peter gave a gasp and started breathing. He was hospitalized suffering from shock.

Must Discuss All The Issues

G.O.P. Chairman Outlines Plans For Campaign

CHICAGO, Sept. 14—(INS)—Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said today that the party's political plans must not detract from winning the war and the peace, but warned:

"To engage in a conspiracy with the Democrats to withhold the facts from the American voters would be a betrayal of our trust.

"Our candidates for the Senate and the House propose to discuss the issues—all the issues.

"This critical hour in American history requires honest soul-searching and courage."

Thus Gabrielson in his report to the GOP national committee, which opened a two-day "shirt-sleeve conference" with midwestern party leaders today, indicated clearly the outlines of Republican campaign strategy.

Observers at the conference believe Republican candidates will hit hard at the administration's foreign policy, particularly in regard to Asia, and its conduct by Secretary of State Acheson, and "defense bungling".

Admission of Mistake

Gabrielson said that President Truman's acceptance of Defense Secretary Johnson's resignation "was an admission of another mistake".

The GOP leader admitted that the "political situation is extremely volatile" now and added:

"What may be immediately ahead of us between now and Nov. 7 is not easy to forecast."

Gabrielson reminded national committee members and party leaders that only 53 calendar days remain to the eve of elections and urged them to work long and hard in the Hustings.

He told them:

"The American people are angry and disillusioned. They have not only had enough—they have had too much. . . We need a Republican Congress as a check on the executive branch which has more than two years in office."

It was the first meeting of the full national committee since the beginning of the Korean war.

Leaders from 20 southern and midwestern states have been invited to the meeting, devoted primarily to strategy and tactics, to lend their voices and advice to the proceedings.

HOUSEWORK

NEW YORK—Men, not women, are the best housekeepers, according to Mrs. Mary K. Heiner, an expert in household management. She said their secret was in getting "rid of work by preventing it." Most home efficiency aids, she pointed out, have been developed by men. An electric janitor, designed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, alone saves the housewife some 5,000 cellarward steps each week by automatically making furnace damper adjustments.

Mood All Wrong? Tint Your Hair

NEW YORK—(INS)—Feel blue? Then tint your hair a bright shade and lift yourself out of the doldrums.

Wearing a red dress? Then tint your hair a coordinated hue and achieve color harmony.

That's the modern-day advice from Donu Edmond, noted New York hair authority, who adds that it's perfectly proper to change your hair color to suit your mood, your personality, or your ensemble.

Furthermore, scientists and inventors are now perfecting a discovery that will enable a lady to be a blonde at breakfast, a brunette for lunch and a redhead at dinner, depending on how she f els or where she's going. What's more, she can perform the transformation herself in the privacy of her boudoir in less than half an hour.

So, if Nature made you a brunette and you really feel you have a blonde soul—or vice versa—there's no need to brood about it, says Edmond, for there's relief ahead.

Surplus Material Research Helper

PRINCETON, N. J.—(INS)—The old-fashioned Yankee ingenuity that made thrifty use of odds and ends and extras is not a forgotten art even in this atomic age, judging from the way navy war surplus equipment is being gainfully employed in supersonic research.

A newly dedicated wind tunnel at Princeton university's aeronautical engineering laboratory provides an example. In it, according to Professor Seymour M. Bogdonoff, in charge of tunnel design and operation, the following equipment is helping carry on advanced research into faster-than-sound aerodynamics:

Two compressors and 47 tanks originally intended for torpedo charging equipment; 2. Steel plates for the unbuilt U. S. Illinois; 3. A settling chamber which was the butt end of a 16-inch naval gun. In addition there is a new-type eight-inch Honeywell valve, designed in conjunction with the supersonics laboratory staff, which controls pressures up to 3,500 pounds per square inch. The entire assembly of controls and the tunnel and its equipment is compacted into an area of approximately 4800 square feet.

FIRE SIGNALS

NEWTON, Mass.—To minimize any possibility of error in code transmission, every fire alarm box sends its signal four times to the central station. The second signal is to confirm the first. If both coincide, no further confirmation is needed. If not alike, the third tells which of the previous two is correct. According to engineers of the Gamewell Company, here, the fourth signal is provided merely because of the mechanical arrangement of the box. Actually, only three signals are necessary.

EQUIPMENT CHECK

LONDON. — (INS)—The British War Office has ordered an urgent checkup of all Army reserve equipment scattered in "graveyards" and ordnance depots throughout the country. Equipment includes tanks, artillery, engineer equipment, motor transport, light weapons and other supplies.

The thread-finned fish of the Amazon river leaps out of the water and lays its eggs on plants.

INITIAL PIN

NEW YORK—June Hess Kelly, New York opera and concert soprano, is wearing an initial pin of her own design that may well set a new style. The idea is to use precious and semi-precious stones — or reasonable facsimiles of them—whose names have first letters corresponding with the initials wanted. In her case, the initials are J. H. K. So the J is done in jade; the H is done in helitrope (yes, there is such a stone); and the K is Kunzite. The initials are carved from these stones and set in an attractive gold pin.

MEAT EATING

NEW YORK — Americans, long noted as the world's champion meat eaters, are eating a lot more meat now than during the decades before the last year. Last year, U. S. citizens consumed the fantastic total of almost 24 billion pounds of meat and meat products—both canned and fresh — which averaged about 160 pounds for every man, woman, and child in the country, reports L. W. Graaskamp, vice-president of the American Can Company.

The first school for the deaf in the United States was started in Hartford, Conn., in 1817.

Playgoer Founds Theater Group

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — A Philadelphia woman hasn't missed a 'first night' in the Quaker City's theater offerings in 25 years.

As might be expected, Mrs. Carol Mitchell's interest in the theater extends beyond play-going. She's the founder of the Philadelphia Experimental Theater. She says:

"This project isn't a little theater. It isn't arty or aimed toward the intelligentsia.

"Primarily, it's for new talent, actors, playwrights, directors stage designers and so on who have been rattling around Philadelphia for years with no place to try out their work."

The group has 500 members. Both the members and the audience pay a five-dollar yearly subscription. They not only see or take part in the productions, but also join in discussions after the shows or hear lectures by experienced members of the theater.

Acheson And Bevin Ready For Vishinsky

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 14—(INS)—Authoritative sources indicate that U. S. Secretary of State Acheson and Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin are ready to blast Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky on Asiatic policy in the United Nations Tuesday.

Although it is customary procedure to withhold major policy statements in the General Assembly until the second or third day of plenary sessions, Acheson and Bevin along with France's Foreign Minister Schuman have silently agreed to come loaded for bear on Tuesday at 3 p.m. and blast away with all barrels if necessary.

This anticipation by the western big three is keyed to the belief—supported by hints from sources close to the Soviet U. N. Delegation—that Vishinsky is planning to touch off the roaring battle of East vs. West on China, and on Asia in general, right from scratch.

The white-haired Russian, who arrives at the head of a formidable team on Monday, is a past master at seizing the floor and gaining the advantage in blasting his opponents before they have a chance to catch their breath.

James, Leader In Jerusalem Church

JESUS' BROTHER SETTLES GREAT CONTROVERSY

Scripture—Mark 3:31-35; 6:3; I Corinthians 15:7; Gaaltians 2:9-12; Acts 12:17; 15

Jewish synagogue.

"Be doers of the word, and not hearers only."—James 1:22.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

We always think of Jesus as a person apart from all others. He was, of course, but before He started His work, He lived at the modest home of His parents with His brothers and sisters—even as you and I.

He had at least three brothers and two sisters, and one of the brothers was James, who, while Jesus was on earth, was not one of His apostles, but later was an important person in the church.

There are at least three Jameses in the New Testament. There was James, the son of Zebedee and brother of John the Apostle; then there was another James, of the 12, son of Alphaeus; James the Little, according to Mark, sometimes identified with the second James of this list, which cannot be confirmed, was another.

Our first mention of James is when Jesus, being with others in a house, someone brought Him word that His mother and brethren were outside. Jesus asked, "Who is My mothers, or My brethren"?

Then, looking around on those present, He said, "Behold My mother and My brethren", and further, "Whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is My sister and mother."

Jesus' statement did not mean that He had no special affection for His family, but that His family was enlarged and included all God's people. So should our own family be enlarged to take in all the Lord's family.

Prior to this episode, at the very beginning of the Lord's ministry, when He returned home and read the scriptures in the synagogue at Nazareth, His neighbors were amazed, asking, "Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary and Joseph, the brother of James and Joses, and of Juda and Simon? and are not His sisters here with us? And they were offended with Him."

Jesus was thirty years old before He began His mission. Didn't it seem odd that none of these neighbors had noticed that He was not merely a carpenter and member of Mary and Joseph's family?

Surely He must have been different from the others.

Possibly He was quiet, pondering His great mission and preparing for it, and His neighbors were not keen enough to recognize His greatness. It often happens that way in modern life.

Paul, in writing to the Corinthians, speaks of Jesus appearing to His brother James after His resurrection. We do not know whe nor where this appearance took place.

In Galatians 2:9-12, Paul tells of James and Peter as "pillars" of the church, who, after Paul and Barnabas had reported their work among the Gentiles, Paul wrote, "When James, Cephus and John, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision."

Nevertheless, when Peter went to Antioch, Paul and he disagreed because Peter had been eating with Gentiles, and then stopped because he feared what the Jews would say. Peter did wrong, as nothing had been said in the council about that. The Gentiles were only required to forego certain specified things.

The lesson is brought to a fine conclusion with James' magnificent address at the first council of the church. Barnabas and Paul had been rehearsing "what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles through them." Much dispute had followed, and now everyone was silent and prepared to listen to James.

In his address he brought the matter to its conclusion, quoting the scriptures to add to the facts as presented by the two missionaries.

According to R. B. Rackham, "St. James commanded the veneration of all . . . As James, the Just, he represented in particular the ideal of the Hebraic party, and if anyone was to win them to the acceptance of the Gentiles, it would be he."

His quotations from the prophets proved that God intended all—Jew and Gentile alike; to hear Jesus' message and to be converted to the faith. So James, brother of Jesus, settled the controversy, and Gentiles continued to hear the words of the Master and to believe on Him.

Business College Has Get-Acquainted Corn-Wiener Roast

Students and teachers of the New Castle Business college held their annual get-acquainted corn roast at Lakewood on Wednesday evening.

Corn and wiener roast, dancing games and a general get-together were the features of the evening.

Ward Baxter was general chairman for the evening. He was assisted by Paul McKinley, Becky Fazzone and Bill Bayne.

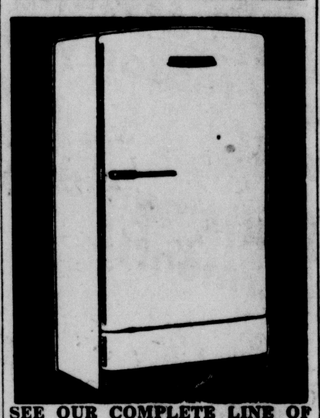

Ivan Clark headed the food committee, which included Beverly Carter, Eva Joseph, Lottie Allshouse and Sue Connors. Lee Barber was chairman of the transportation committee, which was made up of Ed Black, Orlando Rubeis and Dick Stone.

Ross Vanasco is president of the student council, which sponsored the affair. Mrs. Dorothy Boyle is council advisor.

Church Honors Rev. Shields

Croton Pastor Will Leave For Brockway

In the typical Croton manner, members of the Croton Methodist church and residents from all over the Croton district honored Rev. Owen W. Shields at the Croton church Wednesday evening at a farewell reception, as a final gesture to the departing pastor and his family, who leave soon for Brockway, Pa.

The church sanctuary was well filled for the progam which revealed the high esteem in which Rev. Shields was held in the church and community. Although his stay in the city has been only six years, The Shields' made a large host of friends here. Rev. Shields will open his ministry at Brockway, Pa., next Sunday, having been transferred there by the Erie Conference.

Program Presented

With Mrs. C. H. Teece at the organ, the congregation joined in singing, "We Are Gathered Together" and "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us," followed by prayer by Mrs. Anna Harris. Theodore McCreary, president of the church official board served as chairman of the program. The trio composed of Misses Betty Jane Nelson, Barbara Gormley and Donna Sheehy with Mrs. Clara Campbell, accompanying, sang "I Will Follow Thee" and "Pause For A Moment of Prayer."

Rev. Robert M. Patterson, representing the New Castle Ministerial Association, spoke for that organization as did Rev. James A. Gaiser, speaking for the Methodist pastors of the district. A solo by Elmer Morrow, "Compassion" with Mrs. Teece at the organ followed. Chairman of the program committee, Charles Kenehan; Sunday school superintendent, James Snow; lay leader, Howard McQuiston; special days chairman, Mrs. Louella Gormley; choir leader, Mrs. Clara Campbell; youth fellowship representative, Donna Sheehy, all spoke highly of the work of Rev. Shields.

Presentation Of Gifts

Following a solo by Betty Jane Nelson, singing "Always" and accompanied by Miss Sheehy, presentation of gifts took place. Gifts were presented by Mrs. Theodore McCreary of the W.S.C.S.; Miss Lena Malizia on behalf of the Croton Honor Roll and Theodore McCreary for the congregation. Rev. Shields pronounced the benediction. The poem "Farewell" used on the program was composed by Miss Joan McQuiston.

The group adjourned to the church parlors, where a social time took place with lunch being served by the ladies of the church. Mrs. Robert Sheehy and Mrs. O. J. Davies presided at the table centered by a beautiful arrangement of fall flowers given by Mrs. Vane Johns.

As a departing gesture, Rev. Shields presented the church with a beautiful Bible to be used in the church sanctuary.

The reception committee included: Charles Kenehan, chairman; James Snow, Mrs. Jesse Hinkson, Mrs. Clarence VanHorn, Mrs. Fred Kenehan, Mrs. Charles Campbell, Mrs. John Wilson and Miss Donna Sheehy.

Front Line Troops Will Continue To Get Free Beer

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Front line American and British troops will continue to get free beer.

That is, provided they are "bearing the brunt of battle in the front lines". Maj. Gen. William A. Beidelinden, top supply officer at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, issued a formal statement to squelch rumors that free beer would be discontinued.

Beidelinden said that GI gripes from Korea when a no more free beer rumor spread indicated that the beer ration "was well received and appreciated".

He added:

"Undoubtedly the reaction on soft drinks would be exactly the same if these were discontinued."

Beiderlinden explained that the government no longer issues beer as part of the ration. Instead, he said, beer is provided through other channels and is paid for by non-appropriated money from the central welfare fund. This fund also provides movies for troops in Korea.

The supply chief's statement was issued after one headquarters officer told International News Service that he was not certain whether he could discuss the issue because he did not know whether or not beer was "classified" (secret).

Beiderlinden said that when cooler weather sets in the continued need for the beer issue will be re-evaluated.

Lake Huron and Lake Michigan in the Great Lakes group have exactly the same elevation, 581.92 feet.

Plan To Provide Death Benefits In Wreck Deaths

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Legislation is before both the house and senate today providing $10,000 death benefits to families of 33 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen who died in the recent Coshocton, O., train wreck.

Rep. Flood (D) Pa., introduced such a bill in the house after returning from Ohio where he conferred with survivors of the crash. The measure previously was submitted in the senate by Sen. Myers (D) Pa.

Flood said he also will introduce a bill soon to provide automatic $10,000 life insurance coverage for all persons upon entering the armed services for a period of 75 days. Duirng this time they would have to decide whether to apply for insurance policies.

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the house armed services committee said the legislation to provide payments to deperdents of the 28th infantry division men will be considered by his group.

U. S. Bombers Are Running Out Of Targets

TOKYO, Sept. 14—(INS)—American superfortress pilots today said they are running out of industrial targets only two months after they began operations in support of the United Nations Korean war effort.

Maj. Gen. Emmett "Rosey" O'Donnell, commander of the Far East bomber command, said in an interim report that practically all major military-industrial targets listed as strategically important to the North Korean war potential have been neutralized.

O'Donnell said only two of the huge B-29s have been lost to enemy action and two others in operational accidents since they began operating July 13. Some crew members of these downed planes have been rescued.

O'Donnell's report to Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commanding General of the Far East Air Forces, said:

"The chemical complex of Songjin and the Cinnampo Chemical and Metal plant both were removed from our target list during the past 30 days."

These cities are on the east and west coast of North Korea. Chinnampo serves as the port for North Korea's capital, Pyongang.

Pittsburgh Man Being Held On Lottery Charges

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh man was being held today as a member of what the FBI described as a two-million-dollar international lottery ring.

Michael Austerlitz, 39, was arrested at his home and later released under $2,500 bond, according to the FBI. The agents said they seized 99,600 lottery tickets valued at $124,500 in his home.

Austerlitz until recently was manager of a private club in downtown Pittsburgh. He was one of 11 persons seized in quick raids throughout the country following a tip received by the FBI from the Royal Canadain mounted police.

FBI officials said the tickets were traced to the Franklin Press, a commercial printing firm, of Miami, Fla.

"Freedom Scrolls" To Be Circulated

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 980 American Legion posts have been requested by State Commander Walter E. Alessandroni to join the "Crusade For Freedom", a national program to subscribe donations to establish a radio station to penetrate the iron curtain.

The Pennsylvania Bankers Association also has endorsed the Crusade which is headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former military commandant of West Berlin. Volunteer collections of $1 will be solicited.

The Legion commanders will circulate "freedom scrolls" throughout the state. The scrolls from all over the nation will be taken to Berlin October 24 and placed at the base of a giant freedom bell, a gift of the American people.

The money will be used to maintain radio free Europe which will supplement the Voice of America in beaming news of the free world to the countries behind the iron curtain, Alessandroni explained.

Seaches For Lost Whiskey Distillery

LONDON—(INS)—John Evans Laird, president of an apple-brandy making plant at Scobeyville, N. J., is searching Scotland for a lost whiskey distillery.

The distillery belonged to his family before they emigrated to America in 1644. If he can find it he said he is willing to pay half a million dollars for it. Laird explained:

"American records dated 1780 and handed down from father to son show that my ancestors were whisky drinkers in Scotland.

"Three of the family—William, Robert and Alexander—settled in New Jersey in 1664 and assumed the name of Laird. They began distilling.

"My father spent a lifetime investigating by correspondence the location of the Scottish distillery. I have put certain fragments together about a possible location. I hope to get the others together in Scotland."

Air Force Chiefs Exercise Formula

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The handsome and boyish-looking Air Force Chief of Staff has a favorite exercise for holding the waistline.

Here are the directions: stretch out on the floor with your hands clasped behind your head. Then raise both legs very slowly keeping your knees perfectly straight. When your legs reach about a 45-degree angle, seperate them slowly until they're about two feet apart.

Then bring them back together and very slowly lower them to the floor again.

Better start out by doing it just a few times a day, though—the general has been at it for years.

Wedding Rings—When Are They

Taft Opposes Appointment Of Marshall

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Senate GOP policy leader Taft today announced his opposition to the appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall as defense secretary.

The Ohio senator said he will oppose nomination of the wartime Army chief of staff to the cabinet post because it would "strengthen" Secretary of State Acheson's "hand in relation to the Chinese communists".

Outlines Position

Taft outlined his position to newsmen as the Senate prepared to pass and send to the House legislation enabling Marshall to take the defense post despite the law banning military men from the job.

The GOP leader referred to Marshall's special mission to China and pointed out that the general tried to induce Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to bring communists into his government. Taft said:

"The far eastern section of the state department always has been friendly to the Chinese communists, at least in its leanings.

"The Marshall appointment strengthens Acheson's hands in relation to the Chinese communists and for that reason I am dubious about it."

G.I.'s UNHAPPY

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(INS)—A CBS correspondent reported from Tokyo today that a lot of G.I.'s in Korea become very unhappy when they learned that Gen. John Church, commander of the 24th Division, had put on some long woolen underwear.

They had hoped, said reporter Robert P. Martin, to be out of their fox holes soon.

"But Church cheered them up," the correspondent added. "'The underwear,' said the General, 'doesn't necessarily mean I think we'll be here all winter'."

Urge Out-Patient Clinics For Problem Drinker's Care

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14—Establishment of out-patient clinics for treatment of alcoholics was proposed today by 70 Pennsylvania psychiatrists as a major step toward providing adequate care for problem drinkers.

The specialists made their recommendations during a State Health department survey conducted by the section on alcholism headed by Mrs. Helen C. Snyder.

Of 75 psychiatrists polled, all but five were in favor of out-patient clinics as treatment centers for persons whose craving for alcohol has reached disease proportions.

Individual suggestions offered by the medical men included proposals that clinics be set up in every part of the state and that they should be under the supervision of certified psychiatrists, according to Mrs. Snyder.

Others recommended, however, that the clinics would be of more value in heavily populated areas. Coordination of clinical activities with the work of Alcoholics Anonymous also was advocated.

In Medical Colleges

Most of the psychiatrists favored placing clinics in medical colleges where trained personnel properly can screen alcoholic patients and refer them to the treatment required.

Others said this would limit the program's scope since five of the state's six medical colleges are in Philadelphia and the other is in Pittsburgh.

The psychiatrists were about evenly divided on the question of whether the commonwealth should establish an institution for commitment of alcoholics, Mrs. Snyder said.

Some said such an institution should be used only for acute or chronic cases, while one doctor insisted that if established it should be therapeutic and not custodial in purpose.

A difference of opinion was registered on the question of whether beds and wards should be allocated for the care of alcoholics in state-aided and state-owned hospitals.

Several approved such allocation as long as it is not in mental hospitals, not on a commitment basis and only if a separate building is not available.

One doctor, however, said that space should be provided only in mental hospitals.

Necessity for skilled personnel was emphasiezd, and neuropsychiatric service was proposed.

The survey, she pointed out, is one of several conducted as the basis for a program to be presented to the General Assembly in 1951 to cope with the alcoholism problem in Pennsylvania.

The survey, she said, also has extended to colleges, hospitals, industry and judges.

OUTDOOR RAMBLES with N. R. CASILLO

DREAM STREAM

The other day I visited a private stream development. There were three miles of exquisite trout water broken by a sizable pond complete with an island, ducks and even a beaver, the latter an interloper and a difficult one to evict.

Trout dimpled the pond's surface while the five or six semidomesticated mallards kept up an incessant clamor, resenting, no doubt, the intrusion. Hemlocks crowding the island trailed their feathery boughs in the cool water. Willows, alders and other streamside growths bordered the chattering creek.

In a natural intervale a short distance below the pond, the man who owned this angler's dream, had built a fine lodge under a great tree dominating the scene.

As we stood at streamside just below the house, the owner went on to tell about the idiosyncrasies and foibles of the many fishermen who had angled there. All, of course, used dry flies with varying success, the narrator hinting that in order to be successful the angler must have a "speaking" acquaintance with the trout; the fish invariably scurrying off when a strange fisherman approached them.

The laird ignored my quip and went on to tell about Scar-tail the big brown trout that had been speared by the dagger bill of a great blue heron. Since the bird was unable to lift its prey from the water, the trout made good its escape, but not unscathed, the heron's lethal bill inflicting a jagged wound.

It seemed that the narrator had the tables set or more properly, he told his story at the strategic spot and at the opportune time; because almost as soon as he finished the narrative he pointed into the nearby shallows and carelessly said, "Well, there he is now." And there gliding majestically through the pellucid water was the great fish, the pallid scar clearly visible slanting downward just back of the anal fin. I suspect that the two would have exchanged sly winks could the trout have done so.

While tarrying there a family of wood ducks came winging downstream closely following the meanderings of the water course as though loathe to leave their native element. With a chorus of musical "oo-eeks" they seemingly exchanged greetings with a passing kingfisher clattering noisily upstream.

A secluded bend below a rustic bridge was indeed a "haunt of coot and hern." Well, I won't vouchsafe for the coot, but the heron was there, a great blue-gray bird that went winging off at our approach.

Since dusk was fast approaching, the stream and its environs took on that mysterious quality usually imparted by waning daylight. The alder couched bend just below the point where the stream emerged from the hemlocks, became an elfin nook with mayflies dancing their dance of death above the darkening water. When one danced too closely to the surface it would suddenly disappear and a telltale dimple was the only indication of the finned monsters lurking below the insect revelers.

Even as we watched, a black-crowned night heron flapped its liesurely way toward the flat water below the bridge for a night of fishing. Upon spying us it uttered a startled squawk and banked clumsily away.

A dream stream indeed, but one no more appreciated by its millionaire owner than is a stretch of any good trout water which any fisherman may call his own. After all, values are camparative, and some one aptly said that "catching fish is not all there is to fishing." Even so, I would have liked a crack at those big sportive brown trout!

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Little Afterthought

"Little afterthought"—that's what some of the Benson's friends called Chris when he was first born.

The Bensons were well into their middle years. Their only other child was nearly twenty. And Chris' rival made a great difference in the quiet, well-ordered life that the Bensons had made for themselves.

Such things happen in the best regulated of families. To some couples, the event is overwhelming. They find it hard to be parents of an infant after they have, for some little time, thought of themselves as a middle-aged couple. And it's harder to get up for the six o'clock feeding than they remembered it to be twenty years earlier! However, things gradually work out.

To others, the coming of "little afterthought" is pure delight. A baby brings a renewal of old feelings that they had almost forgotten. In a very real sense, their youth is renewed. Not all the adjustments are easy but nothing could have brought more joy.

There are, of course, some special problems. Parents worry about being too old when their youngster will reach his teens. They wonder whether they will be able to stand the noise and confusion that a normal child brings. They fear they may be too stodgy. But none of this need happen. With the general level of health as high as it is today and with life expectancy greater than ever before, middleaged parents can do a good job of bringing up their "little afterthought".

State Chickens To Set New Egg Laying Record For Year

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Pennsylvania chicken flocks are on their way to setting a new 12-month egg production record, the state agriculture department announced today.

The department also reported milk production during August was down seasonally 18 million pounds from July but was still four million pounds ahead of last August.

For the first eight months of this year, Pennsylvania chickens laid 2,350,000,000 eggs or 193,000,000 eggs more than during a similar period in 1949.

Monthly production was record high for the 13th consecutive month and led flock observers to believe that an ew annual record would be established this year to top the all-time high of 3,097,000,000 set in 1949.

Milk output in the state for the first eight months totaled 4,145,000,000 pounds compared with 3,966,000,000 for a similar period in 1949. The all-time record of 5,812,000,000 pounds was set last year.

Water Company Picnic Planned

Employes of the City of New Castle Water company will have their annual picnic at the grounds surrounding the pumping station, Saturday afternoon and evening, starting at 2 o'clock.

The affair will be a sort of double-barrelled event, as it will honor five employes who are retiring with the company here, and will also acknowledge the seniority of employes who have been with the company a long time.

HADACOL has brought relief almost beyond belief to thousands upon thousands of people with such deficiencies. Why keep on doubting it will help you? Don't give up hope without at least giving HADACOL a chance. You owe it to yourself. You owe it to your loved ones. Get that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling!

THE MAN WHO GAVE THE WORLD THE GREAT NEW HADACOL
Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc—great statesman, and humanitarian — has always been a firm believer in helping his fellow men. He was the first candidate for Governor in Louisiana to advocate a specific Old Age Pension. As State Senator he introduced the law that pays a $50.00 monthly Old Age Pension in Louisiana. Senator LeBlanc has been a champion for the cause of the underprivileged. He has been in public life and has served his people faithfully since 1924.

For a long time Senator LeBlanc had been aware that a number of men, women and children (even from the wealthiest families) were suffering untold ailments and sickness because they had deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin. And Senator LeBlanc after years of research created HADACOL—the product everyone is talking about — the product that is accomplishing such remarkable results for thousands upon thousands of men, women and kiddies who have such deficiencies.

Just a Few of Thousands of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped

Mrs. John Geary, 840 Ursuline St., New Orleans, La.: "I been sick quite some time with a nervous stomach. I was unable to eat regularly and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all."

Mr. John Cox, 1224 Gender St., Springfield, Ohio, a retired gentleman says: "I had nervous indigestion and stomach bloat and gas. After taking HADACOL, I have no more stomach distress and sleep well."

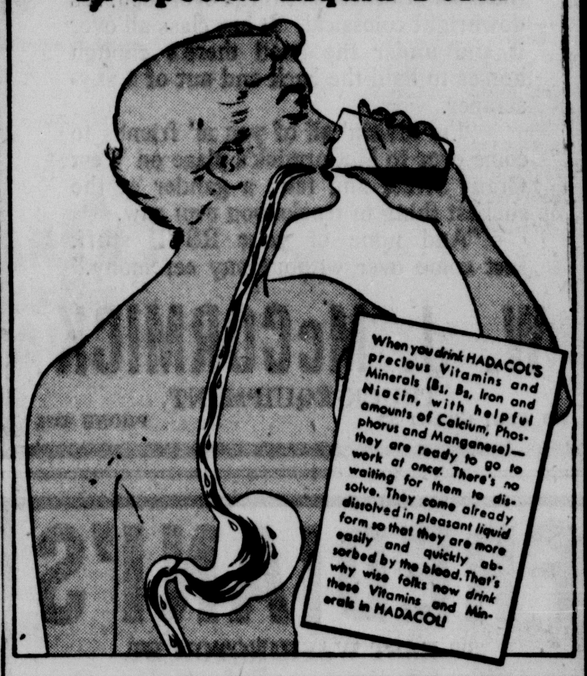

Mrs. Hilton Shuff, Rt. 1, Box 42, Ville Platte, La.: "My son Mark Wendell has been sick from stomach trouble for some time. He could hardly hold anything on his stomach. Then I started giving him HADACOL. He started improving in a short time, and gained weight."

Mr. Link Robinson, steel worker, 519 Lindsay, Newport, Kentucky: "When your stomach is in bad shape as mine was, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness then your body doesn't get the proper food it needs. My boss told me about HADACOL, and I started taking it. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I eat anything."

Why HADACOL Comes In Special Liquid Form

HADACOL not only feeds deficient systems with more than the daily needs of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin but also precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to maintain good health.

Vitamins and Minerals to be readily absorbed must be in soluble or emulsion form. That's why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. The fact that HADACOL comes in liquid form makes it easier to digest, makes the Vitamins and Minerals more available, more quickly absorbed and assimilated than when the same essentials are offered in many types of pills or tablets. And the scientific blending of HADACOL's Vitamins and Minerals intensifies HADACOL's effectiveness.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES. THERE IS ONLY ONE TRUE AND GENUINE HADACOL. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Leaves Will Be Abandoned

School Board Alters One Regulation; Other Board Notes

Effective September 1, 1951, maternity leaves in the New Castle public schools will be abandoned.

The action to abandon the leaves came Wednesday night when the New Castle School Board held its monthly business meeting in the administration building in East Street. Such leaves have been in effect for a number of years here.

The price of milk in pints for the senior and junior high school cafeterias was raised from 10 cents to 12 cents per bottle due to the increase in price from the dealers. The price increase does not effect half pints.

The Commercial Printing Company was awarded the contract for printing the tax duplicates at its price of $229.90.

Cancel Contract

Cotteral Company, recently awarded a contract for chairs for the senior high school notified the board it would have to raise its price. The board cancelled the contract and awarded a new contract to the Kurtz Company for $5.90 per chair.

Jack McCoy, a janitor in the school system presented his resignation due to leaving for the armed forces.

East Lackawannock

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Humphrey and Mrs. Nancy Hamilton attended the Crawford County Fair at Meadville, Pa., on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nelson, a bride and groom of recent date, were given an old fashioned serenade and taken for a ride on Saturday evening. Later a miscellaneous shower was held for them at Mount Pleasant Grange Hall. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, to use in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborne, of Clarksville, were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of their cousins Mr. and Mrs. James Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. James Speer, who have sold their farm here, have bought the property formerly owned by Amzi Heckathorne near New Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Bruce and Gretchen, of this place, and her mother Mrs. Earl McNicholas, and daughter Janie, of London, Pa., motored to California, Pa., on Sunday where Miss Janie was enrolled for the coming term at California State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Cox and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moose and sons, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Coxes, sister, Mrs. C. E. Foster, and family at Bradford, Pa., on Sunday.

Mrs. Isaac Bowen, and Mrs. William Frey, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. and John Cosgrove, of Wampum, were dinner guests and spent the afternoon at the home of Mrs Joseph Bowen, and family, on Sunday, where the former remained for a visit.

NEW QUICK-MIX RECIPE

MOLASSES ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

No creaming, no egg-beating—one easy mixing this Kellogg-quick way!

1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk	½ cup New Orleans Molasses
1 cup sifted flour	1 egg
1 teaspoon baking powder	2 tablespoons soft shortening
½ teaspoon baking soda	½ cup seedless raisins

1. Combine All-Bran and milk in mixing bowl.
2. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt into same bowl. Add molasses, egg, shortening, raisins. Stir only until combined.
3. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full, or for pan bread spread in greased 8" x 8" pan. Bake in preheated moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. (Slightly longer for pan bread.) Makes 12 medium muffins, or 9 squares of bread.

America's most famous natural laxative cereal for diets of insufficient bulk—try a bowlful today! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

NONE OF YOUR RSVP SAYS MR. McGIVELRY

"Any time I see a good thing I want my friends to see it also" said Horatius Q. McGivelry of the Spring Hill McGivelry's) today.

"And I've seen it, the new Federal truck I mean," continued Mr. McG. "It's the most beauticeous thing I ever seen. It's downright colossical. It has class all over it and under the hood there's enough horses to haul the back end out of a skyscraper.

"I'm invitin' all of you m' friends to come over to McCormick's place on West Grant Street and take a gander at the slickest thing in trucks you ever saw.

"And none of your RSVP stuff. Just come over without any ceremony."

Thinks Worst Over In Korea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Army Chief of Staff Gen. Collins today told the senate armed services committee that "the worst is over" in Korea unless Chinese Red divisions are hurled in to support the North Koreans.

Acting Chairman Sen. Chapman (D) Ky., told reporters after the closed hearing:

"General Collins left us with the impression that the worst is over (in Korea) unless there should be an invasion by the Chinese Reds, which, of course, we do not anticipate."

Report Pleases

Chapman said the committee was "much pleased and gratified by the report General Collins made."

Collins declined to answer the reporters' queries on the recent statement of General Walker, commanding UN forces in Korea, that a counter-offensive will be launched soon. Collins said:

The dapper, confident general filled the hearing room with huge relief maps of Korea and pointed out for the committee the situation on the ground.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D) Tex., indicated that Collins also discussed other possible trouble spots by telling reporters:

"He gave us the impression that he knows what he is doing and is as ready as it is possible to be to meet any situation that may develop.

"Of course, we are not as ready as any of us would like to be."

Bridges Charges U. S. Deliberately Sold Out China

The New Hampshire Republican told the Boston Chamber of Commerce:

"We were faced with the choice of supporting a Nationalist government of the Republic of China which had been a faithful ally in World War II or of withdrawing that support and allowing that government to fall in the face of military onslaught from a Chinese Communist dictator, a puppet of the Kremlin conspiracy.

"Deliberately, in the face of bitter opposition, our government chose to abandon a proven friend to a fate of slavery under communism. Our government had made a similar choice in Poland, in Czechoslovakia, in Yugoslavia, in Bulgaria, in Roumania, and in part of Germany. But never before had it had this choice in the face of armed attack. Always there had been the color, however Red, of Legality.

He said our announced policy of abandoning Formosa gave Stalin the signal to send his North Koreans into South Korea.

The Anglo-American fleet possibly also braved Communist mines in its voyage to Inchon. A U. S. Navy spokesman in Tokyo said Thursday night that "we have no definite information that the approaches to Inchon are mined."

Sank Mine-Loaded Ship

He recalled however that a South Korean naval vessal last Monday sank a North Korean ship loaded with mines in Haeju Bay, northwest of Inchon.

He added that it is assumed the North Koreans are using mines "to defend the coast which is being blockaded" and would use them in the Inchon area.

Communist airdromes and other installations in both North and South Korea, in a 210-mile area adjoining the west coast, were bomber, rocketed and strafed by waves of carrier-based planes.

The naval air strikes were executed at the same time that the U. S. and British warships, moving close to the shore line, hammered the Inchon area with tons of shells.

Rail arteries converging into the Korean national capital of Seoul were sumultaneously blasted by B-29 Superforts.

Several Islands Captured

The naval and air attacks came shortly after the American and South Korean commanders at the front promised that UN forces soon will begin major offensive actions to crush the North Korean invaders.

The shellings and bombings were carried out after South Korean Marines had captured several islands off the west coast in a series of naval-supported amphibious landings.

The navy's public information officer in Tokyo said Thursday night that "it is not the first time we have bombarded Inchon."

Asked to state the purpose of the naval shelling of the port, he said:

"What is the purpose of a bombardment anywhere?"

He declined further comment.

Back Seat Teachers In Modern Schools

DALLAS.—(INS)—Teacher has been relegated to a back seat in today's classroom.

It's not because she isn't just as important as ever, but due to new principles and daylight classrooms which give every pupil an even break in the visual field, explains R. L. Biesele, Jr., head of the department of electrical engineering at Southern Methodist university.

In a research study just completed, Professor Biesele reported to Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company that desks should not be aligned in straight rows, but arranged in curves that take advantage of daylight streaming through large windows.

Under this set-up, the teacher's desk is in the rear of the room and the children face away from her toward the chalkboard. This makes for better discipline, since the pupils don't know whether teacher is looking or not.

Professor Biesele's studies have shown that larger windows and improved seating present an easy way for the modernization of many of the 75,000 one-teacher schools still operating in the United States.

Ace Truck Driver Heaps Praise On Female Motorists

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind.—(INS)—Women drivers please note:

Probably for the first time in U. S. motor-vehicle history a man—yes, a man—has gone on record to defend your steering and gearing.

He's Marvin Steelman, ace tractor-trailor operator for the Schenley Industries, Inc., truck fleet. Steelman says:

Steelman says he knows what he's talking about because he's kept tabs on the performance of thousands of motorists—men and women—during his years of transcontinental truck driving. He's piled up 375,000 accident-free miles in the last six years, helping his company to chalk up a total of almost 3,000,000 miles with but one highway mishap.

"Women drive more slowly than men and have their cars under better control," the champ truck driver points out. "And if a woman driver thinks something's wrong with her car, she gets it fixed. Not so with the average man," he adds. "Most men think they understand the mechanics of an automobile and they tend to take chances by delaying repairs."

And here's another bouquet for Madam Motorist from Steelman:

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

...from coast-to-coast this Triumph of Anatomic Design is a tremendous success!

Then, beginning on May 10th, the 1951 Kaiser was put to the acid test: it was offered generally for sale to the American public in dealer showrooms from coast-to-coast.

The result? Everywhere, new owners are acclaiming its spectacular, low-slung beauty... its landscape-sweeping Control Tower Vision... its easy-to-enter High Bridge Doors... its road-hugging low center of gravity...the sensational performance of its new Supersonic Engine.

The unprecedented demand for these new cars clearly establishes the 1951 Kaiser as the value leader in the medium price field. Indeed, a majority of buyers of new 1951 Kaisers are trading-in late models of other makes...to own the only really new car you can buy!

Despite extended work-days and the huge facilities of the Willow Run plant, the list of unfilled orders for spectacular new 1951 Kaisers lengthens every day.

Therefore, we suggest that an order placed now assures you of earliest possible delivery of the most exciting new car in America.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor

Oatmeal Jelly Cookies

Broadcast: Sept 16, 1950

- ¾ cup sifted, all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup rolled oats
- 1-3 cup soft shortening
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- ¼ cup Pet Milk
- ¼ cup jelly

Turn on oven; set at moderate (375°). Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Fold in oats. Put shortening and vanilla into bowl. Mix in sugar slowly. Beat in egg vigorously. Add about ⅓ of flour mixture; when smooth, stir in about half of milk. Continue until all flour and milk are used. Drop by heaping teaspoons on greased baking sheet, 2 inches apart. With back of teaspoon, press hollow in each. Fill each with ½ teaspoon jelly. Bake 12 min., or until light brown. Makes 2 doz.

You Will Need:
Rolled Oats, Jelly, Pet Milk, Brown Sugar and All-purpose Flour.

County School Elevens Ready For Second Games Of Season

Bessemer Opens Weekend Action At Home Tonight

Hurricanes Play First AA Game On Friday Night

Bessemer high leads all other county football teams to the post this weekend when they test hard-running Evans City tonight at 8:15 on the high school field.

New Castle entertains Latrobe at Taggart stadium, Ellwood City plays at Vandergrift and Shenango travels to Leetsdale in Friday night tilts. Union entertains Mars Saturday night at Union high field.

Evans City Tough

The Cementers' first triumph may be postponed by an impressive Big Red team that totaled 414 yards gained in its opening game. Jack Crider, Evans City half, stood out like a beacon and scored four times against Rimersburg, three times from outside the 35.

The home audience will probably look at the same starters that opened against Rochester and which include Soldo and Gagliana at the ends, Shuluga and DeArment at the tackles, Galletta and Novad at the guards and Luscre at center. DeRosa, Schaville, Commesso and Pezzuolo will comprise the offensive backfield.

First AA Game

New Castle meets Latrobe Friday night at Taggart stadium in its first 1950 WPIAL class AA game. It will be the first meeting of the two schools in football.

Latrobe has a light, experienced team, coached by Ray Wild. It won its first game of the season 14-7 from Derry Township last Saturday.

There will be several changes in the New Castle lineup Friday night. Torrance Rankin will probably get the nod at left half in place of injured Ralph Johnson. Guy Amodie may start in place of Ray Latsko, who has been unable to get in any work this week because of the injured knee he received in the Carrick game.

Either Sonny Cook or Hugo Fiorante may get the nod for right end. John Roussos did not scrimmage Wednesday but should be ready for action at fullback Friday night.

After Second Win

The Lancer team has been hurt by injuries to key players and may not be in top shape to face the Wolverines. They lost to Munhall last Friday night 19-6.

Ellwood on the other hand came out of the Erie Strong Vincent fray unscathed and will probably start the same eleven that opened the season.

Shenango Away

Shenango will again meet the enemy away from home when they travel to Leetsdale Saturday for an afternoon game, starting time, 2:30.

Leetsdale will return 10 lettermen and run out of the T. The Leetsdale team opens their schedule with Shenango.

Coach Nahas has indicated that his starting eleven will be stronger this week with the addition of backs Marrone and Feola, both injured previous to the opener.

Union Meets Mars

Union will line up the same as last Saturday night, when they downed Darlington 14-0, with the exception of the center spot, where Smith and Spellick are battling it out.

Mars dropped its opener to Arnold, 19-0.

Dallas Baseball Club Up For Sale

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 14.—(INS)—Millionaire Texas oilman R. W Burnett's Dallas baseball club was up for sale today with a million dollar price tag on it.

Burnett said it was impossible for him to operate a winning ball team without major league connections. Under his independent ownership, the Dallas Eagles finished in the second division three consecutive years.

Two major league clubs—the New York Giants and the Boston Braves—and a group of Houston businessmen reportedly are interested in purchasing the franchise.

Tigers And Yankees Open Crucial Series Today

Jake Gets Revenge

LaMotta Kayos Dauthuille In 15th Round At Detroit

By KEN OPSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—Middleweight champion Jake LaMotta was born in a New York tenement district but his second home must be in Detroit—a town where he leads a charmed life and apparently can do no wrong.

It was there that he won his 160-pound crown from Marcel Cerdan on June 16, 1949. It was here that he beat Ray Robinson and put the lone defeat upon the welterweight champion's incredible record.

LaMotta Cheered

Jake's only setback in Detroit was in a return match with Robinson. The verdict in favor of the Harlem Negro was unanimous but the crowd booed the decision and cheered LaMotta.

They cheered Jake again last night when he smashed Dauthuille to the canvas with a furious attack to the boyish Frenchman's head.

The knockout not only avenged a previous loss to Dauthuille but saved the championship for LaMotta. He was too far behind to gain a decision.

Both judges Joe Lanahan and Jack Asberry had Dauthuille ahead on their scorecards until the kayo. So did referee Lou Handler.

Meets Sugar Next

Lanahan gave Dauthuille seven round, LaMotta three and marked four even. Asberry siad Dauthuille won seven to Lamotta's six and had one even. Handler said Dauthuille won eight rounds and LaMotta six.

A crowd of 11,424 paid $71,694 to witness the fight and LaMotta got 45 per cent of those hard-earned dollar. Dauthuille's share was 15 per cent.

HELPING the Tigers' cause as the Motor City team heads for a pennant, Hal White, 31-year-old pitcher, has twirled two nine-inning victories for the Bengals in the last two weeks although he was considered just an in-and-out reliefer. Phillies Hold Healthy Lead

Red Sox Battle Their "Cousins"

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Tigers and Yankees begin settling the hot American League argument today by beating each other's craniums square, while the pennant-favored Red Sox prepare to scuttle them both in a session against the Browns.

Detroit, up by a half a game, and second place New York, go at each other for the next three days. Boston, one and a half behind, draws its cousins from St. Louis, winners of seven straight.

The important Detroit set was to be launched with Vic Raschi (19-8) going aaginst Prince Hal Newhouser (14-9). Casey Stengel figures to follow up with Ed Ford and Tiger Tamer Tommy Byrne, while the Bengals probably will come back with Art Houtteman and Dizzy Troutt.

The season's series stands at ten wins for the Rolfemen and nine for the world champions.

Tigers Win

Detroit preserved its half-game margin yesterday by downing the Washington Senators, 6 to 1. Freddy Hutchinson was credited with his 16th win with the help of some sterling relief chucking from Ted Gray in the last two innings.

The Yankees got even with Cleveland for Tuesday night's defeat by pasting Bob Lemon for a 10 to 3 triumph. It was the fifth time this season that the Bombers have taken care of the Indians' twenty-game winner.

The Red Sox were not scheduled.

The 33-year-old New York Giants righthander was stopped at 45 straight innings yesterday when Pittsburgh's Gus Bell started the seventh inning with a cheap homer that carried only 257 feet 8 inches and struck the Polo Grounds right field foul pole.

Maglie and the Giants won the game, 3 to 1, but the ex-Mexican Leaguer was stopped 1⅓ innings shy of Carl Hubbell's record set in 1933. It was Maglie's 16th win of the season against three losses, the best percentage mark in the majors.

Braves Top Cubs

The game was halted at the end of seven innings because of rain, and the second part of the doubleheader was called off.

Warren Spahn kept the Boston Braves a half game ahead of the fourth place New Yorkers when he four-hitted the Chicago Cubs to lead the Braves to a 5 to 2 victory.

The Philadelphia-St. Louis and Brooklyn-Cincinnati games were rained out.

Chandler Call Owners Together

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14.—(INS)—Everything for the 1950 world series will be arranged today except the participating teams.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has called a meeting of the National and American league presidents and representatives of the first division teams in each circuit.

Dates for the series will be set on the assumption that any of the teams can win their respective pennants as long as they have a mathematical chance.

Invited to participate from the American League are Detroit, New York, Boston and Cleveland. From the Senior loop, invitations went to Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Boston and New York.

Elks Golf League Completes Season

Elks golf league completed its 1950 season Tuesday evening at Castle Hills golf course when the final rounds for the flight championships were played.

Wayne Harper won the second flight crown with a score of 120, Chuck Donley won the third flight with 129 and Ken Kelly took the fourth flight with a 142.

Thrill Show At Canfield Tonight

CANFIELD, O., Sept. 14.—The aerial rocket leap, designed as the supreme test for man and motor, will climax the two-hour circus of death the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils will present at the Canfield Speedway tonight.

Christie (Snooks) Wentzel of Reading, Pa., one of Chitwood's greatest stars, will attempt to leap a 1950 stock sedan from a highly elevated rampway a great distance through the air to another landing runway, hurtling over another speeding sedan in his flight.

Wentzel also will take a leading role in the hell driving, will compete in the roll-over contest, and is capable of handling any assignment.

Gates to the Canfield Speedway on Thursday night for this first appearance of the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils will open at 6:30. The show starts promptly at 8:30.

Penn State first played under the lights at the Polo grounds, New York, in 1941 and routed New York university 42-0.

QUESTIONS

1—Who is Paul Bryant?
2—Who was the last 30-game winner in the National League?
3—Which team had the poorest record in the All-America Conference while it lasted?

BORN in Gary, Ind., in 1914, this fellow began his athletic career as a pitcher on a sandlot team. He took up boxing as a 17-year-old and became one of the great fighters of recent time. He won a championship and since has retired.

ANSWERS

1—Head Grid coach at Kentucky
2—Dizzy Dean, who won 30 and lost 7 in 1934.
3—Brooklyn, winning eight, losing 32 and tying two.

Photographs Of Nude Girl Students To Be Destroyed

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 14—(INS)—University of Washington authorities made ready today to destroy photographs of 295 nude girl students, taken as part of a scinetific study which drew a storm of protests from some parents.

The pictures were taken for the somatotype project conducted by the Columbia University medical laboratory for about 15 years at several universities and in the U.S. Air Force cadet program.

Angry parents claimed that parental permission had not been asked and the girls had not been told why the pictures were being made.

Dr. Raymond B. Allen, president of the University of Washington, announced the decision to destroy the photographs, taken Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. Allen said:

To Destroy Films

"The taking of pictures has been discontinued, and all films already taken will be destroyed."

In New York, Columbia University officials said the somatotype project, of which the photographs were to be part, is meant to "determine whether a relationship exists between an individual's behavior and his physique." It also is meant to help "establish norms for medical diagnosis and treatment," they said:

Dr. Allen expressed regret that the scientific purpose of the pictures had not been fully explained to the students.

The girls were photographed in three poses: full front, full back and profile.

Miss Barbara Honeyman, executive director of the Constitution Laboratory at Columbia, said she alone develops the films in New York and that the faces are blacked out on the negatives.

Mahoning Fire Company To Meet

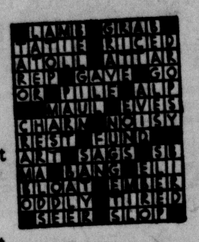

President Robert Ernst, of the Mahoning Township Volunteer Fire Department, has called a special meeting of the department for Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Edenburg Community hall.

Several special matters of interest to the department will come up for discussion at this time, it is stated.

Curved Outside for Beauty ... Inside for Accuracy

5 It has a curved movement with strong, dependable parts.

IN RE: PETITION OF THE CITY OF NEW CASTLE TO SELL CERTAIN LANDS IN THE SIXTH WARD OF THE CITY OF NEW CASTLE, NOT USED OR NECESSARY FOR PARK PURPOSES.

At No. 85 September Term, 1950, the City of New Castle by its Assistant Solicitor, Robert E. Jamison, Esq., has presented a petition to the Honorable Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, setting forth that the City is the owner of a certain tract of land in the Sixth Ward, described as follows:

Commencing at a point where the East line of lands presently owned by Leo O'Loughlin and Margaret L. O'Loughlin, his wife, which is Lot 156 on Section 40 of the City Survey, intersects the North line of the said park; and running thence South 55 degrees 20¼ minutes West 203.9 feet, more or less, to the East line of Schley Street; thence North 3 degrees 10¾ minutes West by the East line of Schley Street 57.54 feet, more or less, to the point of intersection of Schley Street with the South line of the land which was conveyed by the City of New Castle to Lewis E. Beeman, and which point is 66.28 feet South from the South line of West Washington Street; thence North 55 degrees 20¼ minutes East 92.65 feet, more or less, to the Southeast corner of the land formerly of Lewis E. Beeman, which corner is South 26 degrees 49 minutes West, a distance of 56.87 feet from the intersection of the East line of the said Beeman lot and the South line of West Washington Street; thence by the North line of the said Park and by the South line of lands of Harry W. Shoaf, et ux, A. W. Longacre and Leo B. O'Loughlin, et ux, North 86 degrees 49¼ minutes East 95.09 feet to the place of beginning.

The said Petition sets forth further that the property was purchased for park purposes, but that in the opinion of the Mayor and Council of the said City of New Castle, the said land is no longer needed for public or park purposes, and that Leo B. O'Loughlin and Margaret O'Loughlin, his wife, have offered to purchase the said land at private sale for $400.00, subject to the approval of the Court, as provided for by the Third Class City Code, as amended by the Act of 1947, May 1, P.L. 333, Section 1.

The said Court has set a hearing on the said matter, to be held at the Court House in New Castle at 9:00 o'clock A.M., E.S.T., on October 5, 1950, when any parties interested in or having any objections to the proposed sale may be fully heard by the said Court.

JACK FRITZ, City Clerk.

New York Stocks

Little Change Is Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The stock market just about held its own today after the broad upswing of the two preceding sessions. Although selected issues continued to edge higher, profit-taking caused many of the recent favorites to lag.

Chrysler showed up best among the pivotal leaders, gaining 5/8 to 71¾. Bethlehem Steel was up ¼ at 42¾, DuPont up ½ at 80½, Allied Chemical up ⅛ at 58⅜. Union Carbide up ⅛ at 47 and U. S. Steel up ⅛ at 39. General Motors was off ⅛ at 93⅛ and Standard Oil of New Jersey declined ¼ to 85.

Western Union, which had been one of yesterday's features with a run-up of 2½ points, dipped ⅜ to 38⅞. Texas Pacific Land Trust gave up ½ point of yesterday's 3½ point spurt.

Rail shares were mixed. Southern Pacific was off ½ at 61⅞, Illinois Central was off ⅛ at 49⅜, Chesapeake & Ohio up ¼ at 31½ and Pennsylvania up ¼ at 19⅞.

Curb stocks ruled firm. Cities Service was up ⅜, Kaiser Frazer gained ⅛ and Electric Bond and Share was unchanged.

New Charges By Margiotti

Four In Pittsburgh Accused Of Bribery

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti yesterday charged that City Council President Thomas E. Kilgallen and three Pittsburgh policemen with accepting bribes.

The policemen named were Lt. William Lilburn, Lt. Charles W. Puhl and Patrolman George Tarr.

Margiotti fired the charges in a petition for a special grand jury filed in quarter sessions court. The petition stated that the state-directed probe of Pittsburgh's "free work" scandal will include city and county officials as well as officials of boroughs and townships within Allegheny county.

The petition also named two city workmen, Howard Gross, dismissed superintendent of city workmen, and George Manko, who also was recently fired from the city payroll.

Kilgallen was accused of using city labor and materials for private purposes and also of accepting a bribe from the Allegheny Asphalt & Paving Co., Inc., in the form of free construction of a road for his summer home in Butler county.

The policemen were charged with accepting bribes amounting to several thousand dollars for gambling protection.

The petition was understood to be a "somewhat milder" revision of one Margiotti had previously contemplated.

New Pattern Is Now Developing In Korean War

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(INS)—CBS correspondent Robert P. Martin reported from Tokyo that "a new and perhaps significant pattern" is developing in the Korean war.

He said: "The widening strength of air attacks and the sudden weakening of enemy ground attacks seem to indicate either the U. N. forces are almost strong enough to take the offensive or the North Koreans, fearing this possibility, are preparing to withdraw to stronger defense positions."

"The attacks," he said, "appear to be designed not only to prevent enemy supplies and reinforcements from reaching the front, but also to keep the North Koreans from retreating, if that is their intention."

G.O.P. National Committee Plans Election Strategy

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The Republican national committee opened a two-day session heralded as a "shirtsleeve conference" in Chicago today to map strategy and tactics for the fall elections.

In addition to members of the national committee, party leaders from some 20 midwestern states have come to the meeting to lend their voices and advice to the proceedings.

It will be the first meeting of the full national committee since the outbreak of the Korean war. The last national committee meeting was held in Washington in February.

Guy Gabrielson, GOP national chairman, indicated that since the issues are clear as far as the Republicans are concerned, main emphasis will be on tactics, on methods of dramatizing and driving home the party's message.

Building New Bridge At Rose Point

—New Castle News Photos

One million, 107,873 pounds of steel has gone into the building of one of the finest bridges Lawrence County can boost of. The 545 foot structure spans the Slippery Rock Creek at Rose Point, on new Route 422. The top view of the construction, taken from downstream in the gorge, gives an impression of the height. It is 80 feet above the river and made of 6,792 cubic yards of reinforced concrete. H. T. Osburn and Co., of Franklin, Pa., are the contractors building the three span Reine Arche bridge.

Equipment for the bridge was moved in on the 20th of March and it is expected that it will be completed sometime after the first of the year, depending on the weather. For the engineer minded, the crane operating below the bridge, (seen in the top photo) has a 90 foot boom and a 20 foot jib. The lower photo is a road-level view.

U. S. Destroyer Wins Battle With Korean Shore Guns

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—(INS)—The Navy reported today that an American destroyer won a bombardment duel with a communist shore battery on the east coast of Korea near Pohang yesterday.

The destroyer was taken under fire by the shore battery which was estimated to be a three-inch gun.

The Navy also announced that bombardment forces gave 'round-the-clock support to United Nations ground forces on both the east and south coasts. Targets included troop concentrations, artillery and mortar positions and vehicular transport.

Who cares where the washer is? Look at that wiring! All those wires from one outlet! Here's a real need for a skilled electrician and Red Seal Adequate Wiring.

With several circuits and an adequate supply of convenience outlets located about your home you needn't worry about overloading one circuit. Overloading a circuit causes your lights to blink when the refrigerator starts, your toaster to heat slowly, and your mixer to slow to a hesitant growl.

If you are building or remodeling, consult your electrical contractor and ask him about Red Seal Adequate Wiring.
